

RULES OF THE COURT OF CHANCERY OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE

I. SCOPE OF RULES -- ONE FORM OF ACTION.

Rule 1. Scope and purpose of Rules.

These Rules shall govern the procedure in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware with the exceptions stated in Rule 81. They shall be construed and administered to secure the just, speedy and inexpensive determination of every proceeding.

Rule 2. One form of action.

There shall be 1 form of action to be known as "civil action."

II. COMMENCEMENT OF ACTION; SERVICE OF PROCESS, PLEADINGS, MOTIONS, AND ORDERS; DEPOSIT AND SECURITY FOR COSTS.

Rule 3. Commencement of action.

(a) Complaint. --

(1) An action is commenced by filing with the Register in Chancery a complaint or, if required by statute, a petition or statement of claim all hereafter referred to as "complaint." Sufficient copies of the complaint shall be filed so that 1 copy is available for service on each defendant as hereafter provided, unless the Court orders otherwise.

(2) Each complaint, when accepted for filing by the Register in Chancery, shall be accompanied by a covering sheet in the form adopted by the Court and containing information which the Court shall determine is necessary and appropriate.

(aa) Verification. -- Every pleading, except that filed by a corporation, which is required to be verified by statute or by these Rules shall be under oath or affirmation by the party filing such pleading that the matter contained therein insofar as it concerns the party's act and deed is true, and so far as relates to the act and deed of any other person, is believed by the party to be true. Every pleading by a corporation which must be verified shall be verified under oath or affirmation by the chairperson or vice-chairperson of the board of directors, by the president, by a vice-president, by a secretary, by an assistant secretary, by the treasurer, or by an authorized agent and shall be under the seal of the corporation.

(b) Nonrefundable deposit for costs. -- The Register in Chancery shall not file any paper or record or docket proceeding until a nonrefundable deposit for fees and costs has been made with the Register. Such deposit is $100 for all matters except those specifically stated herein. The Register in Chancery shall apply the deposit from time to time in payment of the fees and costs of the Register's office. If the amount of the deposit is expended in payment of such fees and costs as they accrue from time to time, the Register shall demand and receive such additional amount as shall be necessary in the Register's judgment to defray fees and costs for additional services before any such services shall be performed. If the amount of the deposit is not exhausted in payment of such fees and costs, any balance is not refundable and shall be retained by the Register in Chancery at the end of the case. An additional deposit of $400 shall be required in all actions commenced by writ of sequestration, pursuant to 10 Del. C. { 366; $200 of such additional deposit shall be set aside solely for the purpose of paying any fee that the Court may allow the sequestrator. For papers filed from time to time in connection with guardianship matters, the deposit for costs shall be such sum as the Register, from the Register's experience, shall deem sufficient to cover fees and costs of the Register's office for such matter.

This rule shall not apply to any action or other proceeding that is exempt by law from making a deposit for costs.

Failure to make a return or proof of service shall not affect the validity of service.

(h) Amendment. -- At any time in its discretion and upon such terms as it deems just, the Court may allow any process or return of proof of service to be amended unless it clearly appears that material prejudice would result to the substantial rights of the party against whom the process issued.

Rule 5. Service and filing of pleadings and other papers; appearance and withdrawal thereof.

(a) Service: When required. -- Except as otherwise provided in these rules, every order required by its terms to be served, every pleading subsequent to the original complaint unless the Court otherwise orders because of numerous defendants, every paper relating to discovery required to be served upon a party, unless the Court otherwise orders, every written motion other than one which may be heard ex parte, and every written notice, appearance, demand, offer of judgment, designation of record on appeal, and similar paper shall be served upon each of the parties. No service need be made on parties in default for failure to appear except that pleadings asserting new or additional claims for relief against them shall be served upon them in the manner provided for service of summons in Rule 4.

(aa) Appearance: When; how made; withdrawal. -- Except as otherwise provided by statute, a defendant may appear though a summons had not been served upon the defendant. Appearance may be made by the service and filing of notice thereof, or by the service or filing of any motion or pleading purporting to be responsive to or affecting the complaint. An appearance must bear the name of an individual attorney and not merely a firm name. No appearance shall be withdrawn except on written motion and order of the Court.

(b) Service of pleadings and papers: How made. -- Whenever under these Rules service is required or permitted to be made upon a party represented by an attorney, the service shall be made upon the attorney unless service upon the party personally is ordered by the Court, or required by law. Service upon an attorney shall have the same force and effect as if made upon the party represented by that attorney. Service upon the attorney or upon a party shall be made by delivering a copy to the attorney or party or by mailing it to the attorney or party at the attorney's or party's last known address or, if no address is known, by leaving it with the Register in Chancery. Delivery of a copy within this rule means: Handing it to the attorney or to the party; or leaving it at the attorney's or party's office with a clerk or other person in charge thereof; or, if there is no one in charge, leaving it in a conspicuous place therein; or, if the office is closed or the person to be served has no office, leaving it at the person's dwelling house or usual place of abode with some person of suitable age and discretion then residing therein. Service by mail is complete upon mailing.

(c) Same: Numerous defendants. -- In any action in which there are unusually large numbers of defendants, the Court, upon motion or of its own initiative, may order that service of the pleadings of the defendants and replies thereto need not be made as between the defendants and that any cross-claim, counterclaim, or matter constituting an avoidance or affirmative defense contained therein shall be deemed to be denied or avoided by all other parties and that the filing of any such pleading and service thereof upon the plaintiff constitutes due notice of it to the parties. A copy of every such order shall be served upon the parties in such manner and form as the Court directs.

(d) Filing. -- All papers after the complaint required to be served upon a party shall be filed with the Court within a reasonable time thereafter subject to the following provisions.

(1) All requests for discovery under Court of Chancery Rules 31, 33, 34, 35 and 36 and answers and responses shall be served upon other counsel or parties but shall not be filed with the Court. In lieu thereof, the party requesting discovery and the party serving responses thereto shall file with the Court a "Notice of Service" containing the following information:

(a) a certification that a particular form of discovery or response was served on other counsel or opposing parties, and

(b) the date and manner of service.

(2) The party responsible for service of the request for discovery and the party responsible for the response shall retain the originals and become the custodian of them. The party taking an oral deposition shall be custodian of the original; no copy shall be filed except pursuant to subparagraph (3). In cases involving out-of-state counsel, local counsel shall be the custodian.

(3) If depositions, interrogatories, requests for documents, requests for admission, answers or responses are to be used at trial or are necessary to a pretrial or post-trial motion, the verbatim portions thereof considered pertinent by the parties shall be filed with the Court when relied upon.

(4) When discovery not previously filed with the Court is needed for appeal purposes, the Court, on its own motion, on motion by any party or by stipulation of counsel, shall order the necessary material delivered by the custodian to the Court.

(5) The Court, on its own motion, on motion by any party or an application by a non-party, may order the custodian to file the original of any discovery document.

(6) When discovery materials are to be filed with the Court other than during trial, the filing party shall file the material together with a notice (a) stating in no more than one page, the reason for filing and (b) setting forth an itemized list of the material.

(7) It shall be the duty of the party on whose behalf a deposition was taken to make certain that the officer before whom it was taken has delivered the original transcript to such party. Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, any deposition which has been filed pursuant to this Rule may be unsealed by the Register in Chancery.

(e) Filing with the Court defined. -- The filing of pleadings and other papers with the Court as required by these Rules shall be made by filing them with the Register in Chancery, except that the Court may permit the papers to be filed with it, in which event it shall note thereon the filing date and transmit them to the office of the Register in Chancery.

(f) Proof of service of papers. -- Unless otherwise ordered, no pleading or other paper, required by these Rules to be served by the party filing the paper, shall be filed unless the original thereof shall have endorsed thereon a receipt of service of a copy thereof by all parties required to be served or it shall be accompanied by affidavit showing that service has been made and how made or it shall be accompanied by a certificate of an attorney of record showing service has been made and how.

(g) Sealing of Court records. --

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this Rule 5(g), all pleadings and other papers, including deposition transcripts and exhibits, answers to interrogatories and requests for admissions, and affidavits or certificates and exhibits thereto ("documents") filed with the Register in Chancery shall become a part of the public record of the proceedings before this Court.

(2) Documents shall not be filed under seal unless and except to the extent that the person seeking such filing under seal shall have first obtained, for good cause shown, an order of this Court specifying those documents or categories of documents which should be filed under seal; provided, however, the Court may, in its discretion, receive and review any document in camera without public disclosure thereof and in connection with any such review, may determine whether good cause exists for the filing of such document under seal.

(3) The provisions of paragraph (2) of this Rule 5(g) notwithstanding, the Court may, in its discretion, by appropriate order, authorize the parties or other persons to designate documents to be filed under seal pending a judicial determination of the specific documents or categories of documents to which such restriction on public access shall continue to apply. In all such cases the Court shall require submission of the matter within ten days of such initial order and shall make such a determination as soon as practicable.

(4) Whenever any brief or letter subject to Rule 171 is filed under seal with the Court because it would disclose information from a document which is otherwise required to be filed under seal pursuant to this Rule 5(g), the following procedures shall be followed:

(A) if the restricted documents had been designated by the party filing the brief or letter, the party shall also file a copy of the brief or letter for public inspection omitting only such restricted information which the party believes should continue to be sealed for good cause; or

(B) if the restricted document had been designated by another person, the party filing the brief or letter under seal shall give written notice to such person that a copy of the entire brief or letter will be filed for public inspection unless such person files, within 3 days of the filing of the brief or letter under seal, a copy of the brief or letter for public inspection omitting only such restricted information which such person believes should continue to be sealed for good cause; or

(C) if the brief or letter discloses information from a restricted document which had been designated by the party filing the brief or letter and also discloses information from a restricted document which had been designated by another person, the party filing the brief or letter under seal and such other person shall jointly prepare and file, within 3 days of the filing of the brief or letter under seal, a copy of the brief or letter for public inspection omitting only such restricted information as each of them believes should continue to be sealed for good cause.

(5) Any person who seeks the continued sealing of any portion of a brief or letter pursuant to paragraph 4 of this Rule 5(g) shall also file a certification signed by such person's attorney of record (or, in the event such person is not represented by an attorney, signed by such person) that said attorney has personally reviewed the brief or letter filed under seal and that said attorney believes to the best of the attorney's knowledge, information and belief that the restricted information should continue to be sealed for good cause. Said certificate shall briefly set forth the reasons why said attorney believes that good cause exists for continued filing of the brief or letter under seal.

(6) Any party who objects to the continued restriction on public access to any document filed under seal pursuant to paragraphs (2) or (3) of this Rule 5(g) or to any portion of a brief or letter filed under seal pursuant to paragraph (4) of this Rule 5(g) shall give written notice of such party's objection to the person who designated the document for filing under seal. To the extent that such person seeks to continue the restriction on public access to such document, said person shall serve and file an application within 7 days after receipt of such written notice setting forth the grounds for such continued restriction and requesting a judicial determination whether good cause exists therefor. In such circumstances, the Court shall promptly make such a determination.

(7) The Register in Chancery shall promptly unseal any document or brief or letter in the absence of timely compliance with the provisions of this Rule 5(g). In addition, 30 days after final judgment has been entered without any appeal having been taken therefrom, the Register in Chancery shall send a notice to any person who designated a document to be filed under seal that such document shall be released from confidential treatment, unless that person makes application to the Court within 30 days for further confidential treatment for good cause shown.

Rule 6. Time.

(a) Computation. -- In computing any period of time prescribed or allowed by these Rules, by order of Court, or by any applicable statute, the day of the act, event, or default after which the designated period of time begins to run is not to be included. The last day of the period so computed shall be included, unless it is a Saturday, a Sunday or other legal holiday, or, when the act to be done is the filing of a paper in court, a day on which weather or other conditions have made the office of the Register inaccessible, in which event the period runs until the end of the next day which is not one of the aforementioned days. When the period of time prescribed or allowed is less than 11 days, intermediate Saturdays, Sundays and other legal holidays shall be excluded in the computation. As used in this rule, "legal holidays" shall be those days provided by statute or appointed by the Governor of the State.

(b) Enlargement. -- When by these Rules or by a notice given thereunder or by order of Court an act is required or allowed to be done at or within a specified time, the Court for cause shown may, at any time in its discretion (1) with or without motion or notice, order the period enlarged if request therefore is made before the expiration of the period originally prescribed or as extended by a previous order or (2) upon motion made after the expiration of the specified period permit the act to be done where the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect; but it may not extend the time for taking any action under Rule 59(b), (d), (e), except to the extent and under the conditions stated in them.

(c) Unaffected by expiration of term. -- The period of time provided for the doing of any act or the taking of any proceeding is not affected or limited by the continued existence or expiration of a term of Court. The continued existence or expiration of a term of Court in no way affects the power of a Court to do any act or take any proceeding in any civil action which has been pending before it.

(d) For motions and affidavits. -- A written motion, other than one which may be heard ex parte, and notice of the hearing thereof shall be served not later than 3 days before the time specified for the hearing, unless a different period is fixed by these Rules or by order of the Court. Such an order may for cause shown be made on ex parte application. When a motion is supported by affidavit, the affidavit shall be served with the motion; and opposing affidavits may be served not later than 1 day before the hearing, unless the Court permits them to be served at some other time.

(e) Additional time after service by mail. -- Whenever a party has the right or is required to do some act or take some proceedings within a prescribed period after being served and service is by mail, 3 days shall be added to the prescribed period.

III. PLEADINGS AND MOTIONS.

Rule 7. Pleadings allowed; form of motions.

(a) Pleadings. -- There shall be a complaint and an answer; a reply to a counterclaim denominated as such; and answer to a cross-claim, if the answer contains a cross-claim; a third party complaint, if a person who was not an original party is served under the provisions of Rule 14; and a third-party answer, if a third-party complaint is served. No other pleading shall be allowed, except that the Court may order a reply to an answer or a third-party answer.

(b) Motions and other papers. --

(1) An application to the Court for an order shall be by motion which, unless made during a hearing or trial, shall be made in writing, shall state with particularity the grounds therefor, and shall set forth the relief or order sought. The requirement of writing is fulfilled if the motion is stated in a written notice of the hearing of the motion.

(2) The rules applicable to captions, signing, and other matters of form of pleadings apply to all motions and other papers provided for by these Rules.

(3) All written motions shall be signed in accordance with Rule 11.

(4) With respect to all written motions, the parties may enter into a stipulated brief schedule. If the parties are unable to agree to a brief schedule, any party may apply for an order fixing such schedule. After all briefs have been filed, any party may apply for an order fixing a time for argument. Unless the Court directs otherwise, argument on a written motion shall be set only upon the application of a party. Briefing and/or argument may be waived by the parties subject to the approval of the Court.

(c) Demurrers; pleas; motions for decree notwithstanding answer; exceptions and replications; abolished. -- Demurrers, pleas, motions for decree notwithstanding answer, exceptions (except in special proceedings) and replications shall not be used.

Rule 8. General rules of pleading.

(a) Claims for relief. -- A pleading which sets forth a claim for relief, whether an original claim, counterclaim, cross-claim or third-party claim shall contain (1) a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief and (2) a demand for judgment for the relief to which the party deems itself entitled. Relief in the alternative or of several different types may be demanded.

(b) Defenses; form of denials. -- A party shall state in short and plain terms the party's defenses to each claim asserted and shall admit or deny the averments upon which the adverse party relies. If the party is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of an averment, the party shall so state and this has the effect of a denial.

Denials shall fairly meet the substance of the averments denied. When a pleader intends in good faith to deny only a part or a qualification of an averment, the pleader shall specify so much of it as is true and material and shall deny only the remainder. Unless the pleader intends in good faith to controvert all the averments of the preceding pleading, the pleader may make the pleader's denials as specific denials of designated averments or paragraphs, or the pleader may generally deny all the averments except such designated averments or paragraphs as the pleader expressly admits; but, when the pleader does so intend to controvert all its averments, the pleader may do so by general denial subject to the obligations set forth in Rule 11.

(c) Affirmative defenses. -- In pleading to a preceding pleading, a party shall set forth affirmatively accord and satisfaction, arbitration and award, discharge in bankruptcy, duress, estoppel, failure of consideration, fraud, illegality, laches, license, payment, release, res judicata, statute of frauds, statute of limitations, waiver, and any other matter constituting an avoidance or affirmative defense. When a party has mistakenly designated a defense as a counterclaim or a counterclaim as a defense, the Court on terms, if justice so requires, shall treat the pleading as if there had been a proper designation.

(d) Effect of failure to deny. -- Averments in a pleading to which a responsive pleading is required, other than those as to the amount of damage, are admitted when not denied in the responsive pleading. Averments in a pleading to which no responsive pleading is required or permitted shall be taken as denied or avoided.

(e) Pleading to be concise and direct; consistency. --

(1) Each averment of a pleading shall be simple, concise, and direct. No technical forms of pleading or motions are required.

(2) A party may set forth 2 or more statements of a claim or defense alternately or hypothetically, either in 1 count or defense or in separate counts or defenses. When 2 or more statements are made in the alternative and 1 of them if made independently would be sufficient, the pleading is not made insufficient by the insufficiency of 1 or more of the alternative statements. A party may also state as many separate claims or defenses as the party has regardless of consistency. All statements shall be made subject to the obligations set forth in Rule 11.

(f) Construction of pleadings. -- All pleadings shall be so construed as to do substantial justice.

Rule 9. Pleading special matters.

(a) Capacity. -- It is not necessary to allege the capacity of a party to sue or be sued or the authority of a party to sue or be sued in a representative capacity or the legal existence of an organized association of persons that is made a party. When a party desires to raise an issue as to the legal existence of any party or the capacity of any party to sue or be sued or the authority of a party to sue or be sued in a representative capacity, the party shall do so by specific negative averment, which negative averment shall include such supporting particulars as are peculiarly within the pleader's knowledge.

(b) Fraud, mistake, condition of the mind. -- In all averments of fraud or mistake, the circumstances constituting fraud or mistake shall be stated with particularity. Malice, intent, knowledge and other condition of mind of a person may be averred generally.

(c) Conditions precedent. -- In pleading the performance or occurrence of conditions precedent, it is sufficient to aver generally that all conditions precedent have been performed or have occurred. A denial of performance or occurrence shall be made specifically and with particularity.

(d) Official document or act. -- In pleading an official document or official act it is sufficient to aver that the document was issued or the act done in compliance with law.

(e) Judgment. -- In pleading a judgment or decision of a domestic or foreign court, judicial or quasi-judicial tribunal, or of a board or officer, it is sufficient to aver the judgment or decision without setting forth matter showing jurisdiction to render it.

(f) Time and place. -- For the purpose of testing the sufficiency of a pleading, averments of time and place are material and shall be considered like all other averments of material matter.

(g) Special damage. -- When items of special damage are claimed, they shall be specifically stated.

Rule 10. Form of pleadings.

(a) Caption; names of parties. -- Every pleading, and every notice, motion, affidavit, form of order, request for or response to discovery, or other filing shall contain a caption setting forth the name of the Court, the title of the action, the number assigned to the action by the Register in Chancery, and a brief descriptive title indicating the nature of the document. In the complaint the title of the action shall include the names of all the parties, but in other filings it is sufficient to state the name of the first party on each side with an appropriate indication of other parties.

(b) Paragraphs; separate statements. -- All averments of claim or defense shall be made in numbered paragraphs, the contents of each of which shall be limited as far as practicable to a statement of a single set of circumstances; and a paragraph may be referred to by number in all succeeding pleadings. Each claim founded upon a separate transaction or occurrence and each defense other than denials shall be stated in a separate count or defense whenever a separation facilitates the clear presentation of the matters set forth.

(c) Adoption by reference; exhibits. -- Statements in a pleading may be adopted by reference in a different part of the same pleading or in another pleading or in any motion. A copy of any written instrument which is an exhibit to a pleading is a part thereof for all purposes.

(d) Form of papers. -- Pleadings, notice, motions, affidavits, forms of order and other documents produced for filing (except for briefs and memoranda of points and authorities governed by Chancery Rule 171) shall be produced on opaque, unglazed white, 8 1/2 x 11 inches paper, double spaced, with 1 1/4 inch margins on all sides and shall be filed in a plain backer firmly bound at the top. Papers materially defaced by erasures or interlineation shall not be received by the Register in Chancery without an order of the Court.

Rule 11. Signing of pleadings, motions, and other papers; representations to Court; sanctions.

(a) Signature. -- Every pleading, motion, and other paper shall be signed by at least 1 attorney of record in the attorney's individual name, or, if the party is not represented by an attorney, shall be signed by the party. Each paper shall state the signer's address and telephone number, if any. Except when otherwise specifically provided by statute or rule, pleadings need not be verified or accompanied by affidavit. An unsigned paper shall be stricken unless it is corrected promptly after the omission of the signature is called to the attention of the attorney of party.

(b) Representations to Court. -- By presenting to the Court (whether by signing, filing, submitting, or later advocating) a pleading, written motion, or other paper, an attorney or unrepresented party is certifying that to the best of the person's knowledge, information, and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances:

(1) it is not being presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation;

(2) the claims, defenses, and other legal contentions therein are warranted by existing law or by a nonfrivolous argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law or the establishment of new law;

(3) the allegations and other factual contentions have evidentiary support or, if specifically so identified, are likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery; and

(4) the denials of factual contentions are warranted on the evidence or, if specifically so identified, are reasonably based on a lack of information or belief.

(c) Sanctions. -- If, after notice and a reasonable opportunity to respond, the Court determines that subdivision (b) has been violated, the Court may, subject to the conditions stated below, impose an appropriate sanction upon the attorneys, law firms, or parties that have violated subdivision (b) or are responsible for the violation.

(1) How initiated. --

(A) By motion. -- A motion for sanctions under this rule shall be made separately from other motions or requests and shall describe the specific conduct alleged to violate subdivision (b). It shall be served as provided in Rule 5, but shall not be filed with or presented to the Court unless, within 21 days after service of the motion (or such other period as the Court may prescribe), the challenged paper, claim, defense, contention, allegation, or denial is not withdrawn or appropriately corrected. If warranted, the Court may award to the party prevailing on the motion the reasonable expenses and attorney's fees incurred in presenting or opposing the motion. Absent exceptional circumstances, a law firm shall be held jointly responsible for violations committed by its partners, associates, and employees.

(B) On Court's initiative. -- On its own initiative, the Court may enter an order describing the specific conduct that appears to violate subdivision (b) and directing an attorney, law firm, or party to show cause why it has not violated subdivision (b) with respect thereto.

(2) Nature of sanction; limitations. -- A sanction imposed for violation of this rule shall be limited to what is sufficient to deter repetition of such conduct or comparable conduct by others similarly situated. Subject to the limitations in subparagraphs (A) and (B), the sanction may consist of, or include, directives of a nonmonetary nature, an order to pay a penalty into Court, or, if imposed on motion and warranted for effective deterrence, an order directing payment to the movant of some or all of the reasonable attorneys' fees and other expenses incurred as a direct result of the violation.

(A) Monetary sanctions may not be awarded against a represented party for a violation of subdivision (b)(2).

(B) Monetary sanctions may not be awarded on the Court's initiative unless the Court issues its order to show cause before a voluntary dismissal or settlement of the claims made by or against the party which is, or whose attorneys are, to be sanctioned.

(3) Order. -- When imposing sanctions, the Court shall describe the conduct determined to constitute a violation of this rule and explain the basis for the sanction imposed.

(d) Inapplicability to discovery. -- Subdivisions (a) through (c) of this rule do not apply to disclosures and discovery requests, responses, objections, and motions that are subject to the provisions of Rules 26 through 37.

Rule 12. Defenses and objections -- When and how presented -- By pleading or motion -- Motion for judgment on pleadings.

(a) When presented. -- A defendant shall serve an answer within 20 days after the service of the summons and complaint upon the defendant, unless the Court directs otherwise when service of process is made pursuant to rules 4 (da) and 4 (db). A party served with a pleading stating a cross-claim against the party shall serve an answer thereto within 20 days after the service upon the party. The plaintiff shall serve a reply to a counterclaim in the answer within 20 days after service of the answer or, if a reply is ordered by the Court, within 20 days after service of the order, unless the order otherwise directs. For cause shown the Court may shorten or enlarge the time periods specified herein. The service of a motion permitted under this rule alters these periods as follows, unless a different time is fixed by order of the Court:

(1) If the Court denies the motion or postpones its disposition until the trial on the merits, the responsive pleadings shall be served within 10 days after notice of the Court's action.

(2) If the Court grants a motion for a more definite statement, the responsive pleading shall be served within 10 days after the service of the more definite statement.

(b) How presented. -- Every defense, in law or fact, to a claim for relief in any pleading, whether a claim, counterclaim, cross-claim or third-party claim, shall be asserted in the responsive pleading thereto if one is required, except that the following defenses may at the option of the pleader be made by motion: (1) Lack of jurisdiction over the subject matter, (2) lack of jurisdiction over the person, (3) improper venue, (4) insufficiency of process, (5) insufficiency of service of process, (6) failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, (7) failure to join a party under Rule 19. A motion making any of these defenses shall be made before pleading if a further pleading is permitted. No defense or objection is waived by being joined with 1 or more other defenses or objections in a responsive pleading or motion. If a pleading sets forth a claim for relief to which the adverse party is not required to serve a responsive pleading, the adverse party may assert at the trial any defense in law or fact to that claim for relief. If, on a motion asserting the defense numbered (6) to dismiss for failure of the pleading to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, matters outside the pleading are presented to and not excluded by the Court, the motion shall be treated as one for summary judgment and disposed of as provided in Rule 56, and all parties shall be given reasonable opportunity to present all material made pertinent to such a motion by Rule 56.

(c) Motion for judgment on the pleadings. -- After the pleadings are closed but within such time as not to delay the trial, any party may move for judgment on the pleadings. If, on a motion for judgment on the pleadings, matters outside the pleadings are presented to and not excluded by the Court, the motion shall be treated as one for summary judgment and disposed of as provided in Rule 56, and all parties shall be given reasonable opportunity to present all material made pertinent to such a motion by Rule 56.

(d) Preliminary hearings. -- The defenses specifically enumerated (1) - (7) in paragraph (b) of this rule, whether made in a pleading or by motion, and the motion for judgment mentioned in paragraph (c) of this rule, shall be heard and determined before trial on application of any party, unless the Court orders that the hearing and determination thereof be deferred until the trial.

(e) Motion for more definite statement. -- If a pleading to which a responsive pleading is permitted is so vague or ambiguous that a party cannot reasonably be required to frame a responsive pleading, the party may move for a more definite statement before interposing the party's responsive pleading. The motion shall point out the defects complained of and the details desired. If the motion is granted and the order of the Court is not obeyed within 10 days after notice of the order or within such other time as the Court may fix, may strike the pleading to which the motion was directed or make such order as it deems just.

(f) Motion to strike. -- Upon motion made by a party before responding to a pleading or, if no responsive pleading is permitted by these Rules, upon motion made by a party within 20 days after the service of the pleading upon the party or upon the Court's own initiative at any time, the Court may order stricken from any pleading any insufficient defense or any redundant, immaterial, impertinent, or scandalous matter.

(g) Consolidation of defenses. -- A party who makes a motion under this rule may join with it the other motions herein provided for and then available to the party. If a party makes a motion under this rule but omits therefrom any defense or objection then available to the party which this rule permits to be raised by motion, the party shall not thereafter make a motion based on any of the defenses or objections so omitted except as provided in subparagraph (h)(2) hereof on any of the grounds there stated.

(h) Waiver of defenses. --

(1) A defense of lack of jurisdiction over the person, improper venue, insufficiency of process, or insufficiency of service of process is waived (A) if omitted from a motion in the circumstances described in paragraph (g), or (B) if it is neither made by motion under this rule nor included in a responsive pleading or an amendment thereof permitted by Rule 15(a) to be made as a matter of course.

(2) A defense of failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, a defense of failure to join a party indispensable under Rule 19, and an objection of failure to state a legal defense to a claim may be made in any pleading permitted or ordered under Rule 7(a), or by motion for judgment on the pleadings, or at the trial on the merits.

(3) Whenever it appears by suggestion of the parties or otherwise that the Court lacks jurisdiction of the subject matter, the Court shall dismiss the action.

Rule 13. Counterclaim and cross-claim.

(a) Compulsory counterclaims. -- A pleading shall state as a counterclaim any claim, which at the time of serving the pleading the pleader has against any opposing party, if it arises out-of the-transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the opposing party's claim and does not require for its adjudication the presence of third parties of whom the Court cannot acquire jurisdiction, except that such a claim need not be so stated if at the time the action was commenced the claim was the subject of another pending action.

(b) Permissive counterclaims. -- A pleading may state as a counterclaim any claim against an opposing party not arising but of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the opposing party's claim.

(c) Counterclaim exceeding opposing claim. -- A counterclaim may or may not diminish or defeat the recovery sought by the opposing party. It may claim relief exceeding in amount or different in kind from that sought in the pleading of the opposing party.

(d) Omitted.

(e) Counterclaim maturing or acquired after pleading. -- A claim which either matured or was acquired by the pleader after serving a pleading may, with the permission of the Court, be presented as a counterclaim by supplemental pleading.

(f) Omitted counterclaim. -- When a pleader fails to set up a counterclaim through oversight, inadvertence, or excusable neglect, or when justice requires, the pleader may by leave of court set up the counterclaim by amendment.

(g) Cross-claim against coparty. -- A pleading may state as a cross-claim any claim by 1 party against a coparty arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter either of the original action or of a counterclaim therein, or relating to any property that is the subject matter of the original action. Such cross-claim may include a claim that the party against whom it is asserted is or may be liable to the cross-claimant for all or part of a claim asserted in the action against the cross-claimant.

(h) Joinder of additional parties. -- Persons other than those made parties to the original action may be made parties to a counterclaim or cross-claim in accordance with the provisions of Rules 19 and 20.

(i) Separate trials; separate judgments. -- If the Court orders separate trials as provided in Rule 42(b), judgment on a counterclaim or cross-claim may be rendered in accordance with the terms of Rule 54(b) when the Court has jurisdiction to so do, even if the claims of the opposing party have been dismissed or otherwise disposed of.

Rule 14. Third-party practice.

(a) When defendant may bring in third party. -- At any time after commencement of the action a defending party, as a third-party plaintiff, may cause process and complaint to be served upon a person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to the third-party plaintiff for all or part of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff. The third-party plaintiff need not obtain leave to make service if the third-party plaintiff files the third-party complaint not later than 10 days after serving the answer. Otherwise, the third-party plaintiff must obtain leave on motion upon notice to all parties to the action. The person served with the summons and third-party complaint, hereinafter called the third-party defendant, shall make any defenses to the third-party plaintiff's claim as provided in Rule 12 and any counterclaims against the third-party plaintiff and cross-claims against other third-party defendants as provided in Rule 13. The third-party defendant may assert against the plaintiff any defenses which the third-party plaintiff has to the plaintiff's claim. The third-party defendant may also assert any claim against the plaintiff arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff. The plaintiff may assert any claim against the third-party defendant arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff and the third-party defendant thereupon shall assert any defenses as provided in Rule 12 and any counterclaim and cross-claim as provided in Rule 13. Any party may move to strike the third-party claim, or for its severance or separate trial. A third-party defendant may proceed under this rule against any person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to the third-party defendant for all or part of the claim made in the action against the third-party defendant.

(b) When plaintiff may bring in third party. -- When a counterclaim is asserted against a plaintiff, the plaintiff may cause a third party to be brought in under the circumstances which under this rule would entitle a defendant to do so.

Rule 15. Amended and supplemental pleadings.

(a) Amendments. -- A party may amend the party's pleading once as a matter of course at any time before a responsive pleading is served or, if the pleading is one to which no responsive pleading is permitted and the action has not been set for trial, the party may so amend it anytime within 20 days after it is served. Otherwise a party may amend the party's pleading only by leave of Court or by written consent of the adverse party; and leave shall be freely given when justice so requires. A party shall plead in response to an amended pleading within the time remaining for response to the original pleading or within 10 days after service of the amended pleading, whichever period may be longer, unless the Court otherwise orders.

(aa) Form of amendments. -- A party serving an amended pleading shall indicate plainly in the amended pleading in what respect the amendment differs from the pleading which it amends.

(aaa) Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this Rule, a party that wishes to respond to a motion to dismiss under Rules 12(b)(6), 12(c) or 23.1 by amending its pleading must file an amended complaint or a motion to amend in conformity with this rule no later than the time such party's answering brief in response to the Rule 12(b), 12(c) or 23.1 motion is due to be filed. In the event a party fails to comply with this requirement and the Court concludes that the pleading should be dismissed under Rule 12(b)(6), 12(c) or 23.1, the dismissal shall be with prejudice unless the Court for good cause shown shall find that dismissal with prejudice would not be just under all the circumstances.

(b) Amendments to conform to the evidence. -- When issues not raised by the pleadings are tried by express or implied consent of the parties, they shall be treated in all respects as if they had been raised in the pleadings. Such amendment of the pleadings as may be necessary to cause them to conform to the evidence and to raise these issues may be made upon motion of any party at any time, even after judgment; but failure so to amend does not affect the result of the trial of these issues. If evidence is objected to at the trial on the ground that it is not within the issues made by the pleadings, the Court may allow the pleadings to be amended and shall do so freely when the presentation of the merits of the action will be subserved thereby and the objecting party fails to satisfy the Court that the admission of such evidence would prejudice the party in maintaining an action or defense upon the merits. The Court may grant a continuance to enable the objecting party to meet such evidence.

(c) Relation back of amendments. -- An amendment of a pleading relates back to the date of the original pleading when

(1) relation back is permitted by the laws that provide the statute of limitations applicable to the action, or

(2) the claim or defense asserted in the amended pleading arose out of the conduct, transaction or occurrence set forth or attempted to be set forth in the original pleading, or

(3) the amendment changes the party or the naming of the party against whom a claim is asserted if the foregoing provisions of subdivision (2) of this paragraph are satisfied and, within the period provided by law for commencing the action against the party, the party to be brought in by amendment

(A) has received such notice of the institution of the action that the party will not be prejudiced in maintaining a defense on the merits; and

(B) knew or should have known that, but for a mistake concerning the identity of the proper party, the action would have been brought against the party.

(d) Supplemental pleadings. -- Upon motion of a party the Court may, upon reasonable notice and upon such terms as are just, permit the party to serve a supplemental pleading setting forth transactions or occurrences or events which have happened since the date of the pleading sought to be supplemented. If the Court deems it advisable that the adverse party plead thereto, it shall so order, specifying the time therefor.

Rule 16. Pretrial procedure; formulating issues.

(a) In any action, the Court may in its discretion direct the attorneys for the parties, and any party not represented by an attorney, to appear before the Court in person for a conference or conferences before trial to consider:

(1) The formulation and simplification of the issues including the elimination of claims or defenses;

(2) The necessity or desirability of amendments to the pleadings;

(3) The possibility of obtaining admissions of fact and of documents which will avoid unnecessary proof;

(4) The advisability of a preliminary reference of issues to a Master;

(5) Such other matters as may aid in the disposition of the action.

(b) In any action that is to be tried, unless the Court otherwise directs, a pretrial conference shall be held on a date, no less than 7 days before the trial, fixed by the Court. Counsel (or parties not represented by an attorney) who will conduct the trial shall be present at the pretrial conference. No less than 3 days before the pretrial conference, counsel shall submit to the Court in duplicate, a pretrial order which shall meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this Rule. Counsel shall confer in good faith effort to stipulate to the contents of the pretrial order. To the extent that counsel are unable to agree upon the contents of the pretrial order, each attorney (or party not represented by an attorney) shall submit to the Court a proposed pretrial order that shall indicate the areas of disagreement.

(c) Except to the extent that the Court orders otherwise, all pretrial orders shall include the following information:

(1) A statement of the nature of the action.

(2) A statement of the facts which are admitted and required no proof.

(3) A statement of the issues of fact and of law which any party contends remain to be litigated.

(4) A statement of the relief sought by each party.

(5) Any amendments of the pleadings desired by any party, with a statement as to whether it is unopposed or objected to, and if objected to, the grounds therefor.

(6) A list of witnesses, including experts, who will be called by each party at the trial, and a statement of the testimony, if any, that will be adduced by transcript (or videotape) of depositions.

(7) A description of any evidentiary issues that will require resolution, which shall include a listing of any exhibits which are objected to and the nature of the evidentiary objection, and an undertaking by counsel (or by parties not represented by an attorney) that insofar as is feasible before the trial commences, all trial exhibits will be premarked and will indicate whether they may be admitted into evidence without objection.

(8) An estimate by each party to the action of the number of trial days that will be required.

IV. PARTIES.

Rule 17. Parties plaintiff and defendant; capacity.

(a) Real party in interest. -- Every action shall be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest. An executor, administrator, guardian, bailee, trustee of an express trust, a party with whom or in whose name a contract has been made for the benefit of another, or a party authorized by statute may sue in that person's own name without joining the party for whose benefit the action is brought; but in those cases in which the bringing of an action for the use or benefit of another is the subject of statutory regulation, the action shall be brought as provided by statute. No action shall be dismissed on the ground that it is not prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest until a reasonable time has been allowed after objection for ratification of commencement of the action by, or joinder or substitution of, the real party in interest; and such ratification, joinder or substitution shall have the same effect as if the action had been commenced in the name of the real party in interest.

(b) Omitted.

(c) Infants, unborn children and incompetent persons. -- No proceeding shall be deferred because of the infancy or competency of a party, unless the Court otherwise orders. The appearance of an infant or incompetent shall be by a general guardian or a trustee, if there be such and if the guardian or trustee be not otherwise interested in the cause, but otherwise by a guardian ad litem.

A guardian ad litem will be appointed upon verified petition of the proposed guardian, or some other party, setting forth such infancy or incompetency; that there is no general guardian or trustee within the State, or that such guardian or trustee has an interest in the cause, and that the proposed guardian ad litem has no interest in the cause. Further proof of the infancy or incompetency, including the production of the infant or incompetent person, may be ordered by the Court.

If within 3 days after the return day of a summons duly served upon an infant or incompetent party, who has no general guardian or trustee within the State, or whose guardian or trustee has an interest in the cause, application be not made on behalf of the infant or incompetent party for the appointment of a guardian ad litem, the plaintiff, upon petition and proof by affidavit of the infancy or incompetency, may obtain an order nisi, for the appointment of a person named in the order to be such guardian. A copy of this order shall be served personally upon the infant, if such infant is over 14 years of age; if under that age, upon the person with whom the infant resides. In the case of a person allegedly incompetent, a copy of the order shall be served upon the incompetent unless the condition of the incompetent is such as to render notice to the incompetent useless in which event the service shall be on the person having the care of the incompetent.

If at the expiration of 10 days after the service of such copy, an affidavit of such service having been filed, no application has been made in behalf of the infant or incompetent for the appointment of a guardian ad litem, the order shall become absolute. If the infant or incompetent party has no known place of abode within the State, and an order for the infant's or incompetent's appearance shall have been duly published, the order for the appointment of a guardian ad litem shall be absolute in the first instance.

A guardian ad litem will not be appointed before service of the summons on the infant or incompetent, except upon personal appearance of the infant or incompetent before the Court, or other proof of infancy or incompetency satisfactory to the Court.

Where the interests of an unborn child are or may be involved in a pending proceeding in this Court, a guardian ad litem may be appointed to represent such interests upon motion of the Court of any party. Such motion shall set forth briefly the interests which will or may be affected by the proceeding, and any guardian so appointed shall have no other interest in the cause.

Rule 18. Joinder of claims and remedies.

(a) Joinder of claims. -- A party asserting a claim to relief as an original claim, counterclaim, cross-claim, or third-party claim, may join, either as independent or as alternate claims, as many claims as the party has against an opposing party.

(b) Omitted.

Rule 19. Joinder of persons needed for just adjudication.

(a) Persons to be joined if feasible. -- A person who is subject to service of process and whose joinder will not deprive the Court of jurisdiction over the subject matter of the action shall be joined as a party in the action if (1) in the person's absence complete relief cannot be accorded among those already parties, or (2) the person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so situated that the disposition of the action in the person's absence may (i) as a practical matter impair or impede the person's ability to protect that interest or (ii) leave any of the persons already parties subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or otherwise inconsistent obligations by reason of the claimed interest. If the person has not been so joined, the Court shall order that the person be made a party. If the person should join as a plaintiff but refuses to do so, the person may be made a defendant, or in a proper case, an involuntary plaintiff. If the joined party objects to venue and joinder of that party would render the venue of the action improper, that party shall be dismissed from the action.

(b) Determination by Court whenever joinder not feasible. -- If a person as described in paragraph (a)(1) and (2) hereof cannot be made a party, the Court shall determine whether in equity and good conscience the action should proceed among the parties before it, or should be dismissed, the absent person being thus regarded as indispensable. The factors to be considered by the Court include: First, to what extent a judgment rendered in the person's absence might be prejudicial to the person or those already parties; second, the extent to which, by protective provisions in the judgment, by the shaping of relief, or other measures, the prejudice can be lessened or avoided; third, whether a judgment rendered in the person's absence will be adequate; fourth, whether the plaintiff will have an adequate remedy if the action is dismissed for nonjoinder.

(c) Pleading reasons for nonjoinder. -- A pleading asserting a claim for relief shall state the names, if known to the pleader, of any persons as described in paragraph (a)(1) and (2) hereof who are not joined, and the reasons why they are not joined.

(d) Exception of class actions. -- This rule is subject to the provisions of Rule 23.

Rule 20. Permissive joinder of parties.

(a) Permissive joinder. -- All persons may join in 1 action as plaintiffs if they assert any right to relief jointly, severally, or in the alternative in respect of or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences and if any question of law or fact common to all these persons will arise in the action. All persons may be joined in 1 action as defendants if there is asserted against them jointly, severally, or in the alternative, any right to relief in respect of or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence or series of transactions or occurrences and if any question of law or fact common to all defendants will arise in the action. A plaintiff or defendant need not be interested in obtaining or defending against all the relief demanded. Judgment may be given for 1 or more of the plaintiffs according to their respective rights to relief, and against 1 or more defendants according to their respective liabilities.

(b) Separate trials. -- The Court may make such orders as will prevent a party from being embarrassed, delayed, or put to expense by the inclusion of a party against whom the party asserts no claim and who asserts no claim against the party, and may order separate trials or make other orders to prevent delay or prejudice.

Rule 21. Misjoinder and nonjoinder of parties.

Misjoinder of parties is not ground for dismissal of an action. Parties may be dropped or added by order of the Court on motion of any party or of its own initiative at any stage of the action and on such terms as are just. Any claim against a party may be severed and proceeded with separately.

Rule 22. Interpleader.

(a) When applicable. -- Persons having claims against the plaintiff may be joined as defendants and required to interplead when their claims are such that the plaintiff is or may be exposed to double or multiple liability. It is not ground for objection to the joinder that the claims of the several claimants or the titles on which their claims depend do not have a common origin or are not identical but are adverse to and independent of one another, or that the plaintiff avers that the plaintiff is not liable in whole or in part to any or all of the claimants. A defendant exposed to similar liability may obtain such interpleader by way of cross-claim or counterclaim. The provisions of this rule supplement and do not in any way limit the joinder of parties permitted in Rule 20.

(b) Pleading and procedure. -- Defendants shall not plead to a complaint (or cross-claim or counterclaim) for interpleader, except to contest the plaintiff's right to relief. When no party disputes the plaintiff's right to the relief prayed for in the complaint, an appropriate order shall be entered discharging the plaintiff, if proper so to do, after the subject matter of the complaint has been deposited with or placed under the control of the Court, and directing the defendants to interplead.

In case of a contest of plaintiff's right to relief, the successful plaintiff shall serve a copy of the order on all the answering defendants and until proof of such service is filed, she plaintiff shall not be considered discharged. Nonanswering defendants shall within 20 days after service of the summons, and answering defendants shall within 20 days after the service of a copy of the order, interplead by serving separate statements of claim denominated "Statement of Claim in Interpleader of.....," setting forth their several claims to the fund or property; and if they dispute the claims of any codefendant, they shall within 20 days after the time above limited, unless otherwise ordered, serve a separate answer to the claim of each codefendant which they dispute, denominated "Answer in Interpleader of..... . to Statement of Claim in Interpleader of..... ." Failure to serve a statement of claim shall constitute a waiver of any claim to the fund, and failure to serve an answer to any codefendant's claim shall constitute, as against a defaulting party, an admission of the validity of such claim.

Rule 23. Class actions.

(a) Requisites to class action. -- One or more members of a class may sue or be sued as representative parties on behalf of all only if (1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class, (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class, and (4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.

(b) Class actions maintainable. -- An action may be maintained as a class action if the prerequisites of paragraph (a) are satisfied, and in addition:

(1) The prosecution of separate actions by or against individual members of the class would create a risk of:

(A) Inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual members of the class which would establish incompatible standards of conduct for the party opposing the class, or

(B) Adjudications with respect to individual members of the class which would as a practical matter be dispositive of the interests of the other members not parties to the adjudications or substantially impair or impede their ability to protect their interests; or

(2) The party opposing the class has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the class as a whole; or

(3) The Court finds that the questions of law or fact common to the members of the class predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. The matter pertinent to the findings include:

(A) The interest of members of the class in individually controlling the prosecution or defense of separate actions;

(B) The extent and nature of any litigation concerning the controversy already commenced by or against members of the class;

(C) The desirability or undesirability of concentrating the litigation of the claims in the particular forum;

(D) The difficulties likely to be encountered in the management of a class action.

(c) Determination by order whether class action to be maintained; notice; judgment; actions conducted partially as class actions. --

(1) As soon as practicable after the commencement of an action brought as a class action, the Court shall determine by order whether it is to be so maintained. An order under this paragraph may be conditional, and may be altered or amended before the decision on the merits.

(2) In any class action maintained under paragraph (b)(3), the Court shall direct to the members of the class the best notice practicable under the circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort. The notice shall advise each member that:

(A) The Court will exclude a member from the class if the member so requests by a specified date;

(B) The judgment, whether favorable or not, will include all members who do not request exclusion; and

(C) Any member who does not request exclusion may, if the member desires, enter an appearance through his counsel.

(3) The judgment in an action maintained as a class action under paragraph (b)(1) or (b)(2), whether or not favorable to the class, shall include and describe those whom the Court finds to be members of the class. The judgment in an action maintained as a class action under paragraph (b)(3), whether or not favorable to the class, shall include and specify or describe those to whom the notice provided in paragraph (c)(2) was directed, and who have not requested exclusion, and whom the Court finds to be members of the class.

(4) When appropriate (A) an action may be brought or maintained as a class action with respect to particular issues, or (B) a class may be divided into subclasses and each subclass treated as a class, and the provisions of this rule shall then be construed and applied accordingly.

(d) Orders in conduct of actions. -- In the conduct of actions to which this rule applies, the Court may make appropriate orders: (1) Determining the course of proceedings or prescribing measures to prevent undue repetition or complication in the presentation of evidence or argument; (2) requiring, for the protection of the members of the class or otherwise for the fair conduct of the action, that notice be given in such manner as the Court directs to some or all of the members of any step in the action, or of the proposed extent of the judgment, or of the opportunity of members to signify whether they consider the representation fair and adequate, to intervene and present claims or defenses, or otherwise to come into the action; (3) imposing conditions on the representative parties or on intervenors; (4) requiring that the pleadings be amended to eliminate therefrom allegations as to representation of absent persons, and that the action proceed accordingly; (5) dealing with similar procedural matters. The orders may be combined with an order under Rule 16, and may be altered or amended as may be desirable from time to time.

(e) Dismissal or compromise. -- A class action shall not be dismissed or compromised without the approval of the Court, and notice by mail, publication or otherwise of the proposed dismissal or compromise shall be given to all members of the class in such manner as the Court directs; except that if the dismissal is to be without prejudice to the class or with prejudice to the plaintiff only, then such dismissal shall be ordered without notice thereof if there is a showing that no compensation in any form has passed directly or indirectly from any of the defendants to the plaintiff or plaintiff's attorney and that no promise to give any such compensation has been made.

Rule 23.1. Derivative actions by shareholders.

In a derivative action brought by 1 or more shareholders or members to enforce a right of a corporation or of an unincorporated association, the corporation or association having failed to enforce a right which may properly be asserted by it, the complaint shall allege that the plaintiff was a shareholder or member at the time of the transaction of which the plaintiff complains or that the plaintiff's share or membership thereafter devolved on the plaintiff by operation of law. The complaint shall also allege with particularity the efforts, if any, made by the plaintiff to obtain the action the plaintiff desires from the directors or comparable authority and the reasons for the plaintiff's failure to obtain the action or for not making the effort. The action shall not be dismissed or compromised without the approval of the Court, and notice by mail, publication or otherwise of the proposed dismissal or compromise shall be given to shareholders or members in such manner as the Court directs; except that if the dismissal is to be without prejudice or with prejudice to the plaintiff only, then such dismissal shall be ordered without notice thereof if there is a showing that no compensation in any form has passed directly or indirectly from any of the defendants to the plaintiff or plaintiff's attorney and that no promise to give any such compensation has been made.

Rule 23.2. Actions relating to unincorporated associations.

An action brought by or against the members of an unincorporated association as a class by naming certain members as representative parties may be maintained only if it appears that the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the association and its members. In the conduct of the action the Court may make appropriate orders corresponding with those described in Rule 23(d), and the procedure for dismissal or compromise of the action shall correspond with that provided in Rule 23(e).

Rule 24. Intervention.

(a) Intervention of right. -- Upon timely application anyone shall be permitted to intervene in an action: (1) When a statute confers an unconditional right to intervene; or (2) when the applicant claims an interest relating to the property or transaction which is the subject of the action and the applicant is so situated that the disposition of the action may as a practical matter impair or impede the applicant's ability to protect that interest, unless the applicant's interest is adequately represented by existing parties.

(b) Permissive intervention. -- Upon timely application anyone may be permitted to intervene in an action: (1) When a statute confers a conditional right to intervene; or (2) when an applicant's claim or defense and the main action have a question of law or fact in common. In exercising its discretion the Court shall consider whether the intervention will unduly delay or prejudice the adjudication of the rights of the original parties.

(c) Procedure. -- A person desiring to intervene shall serve a motion to intervene upon the parties as provided in Rule 5. The motion shall state the grounds therefor and shall be accompanied by a pleading setting forth the claim or defense for which intervention is sought. The same procedure shall be followed when a statute gives a right to intervene.

Rule 25. Substitution of parties.

(a) Death. --

(1) If a party dies and the claim is not thereby extinguished, the Court may order substitution of the proper parties. The motion for substitution may be made by any party or by the successors or representatives of the deceased party and, together with the notice of hearing, shall be served on the parties as provided in Rule 5 and upon persons not parties in the manner provided in Rule 4 for the service of process, and may be served in any county. Unless the motion for substitution is made not later than 90 days after the death is suggested upon the record by service of a statement of the fact of death as provided herein for the service of a motion, the action shall be dismissed as to the deceased party.

(2) In the event of the death of 1 or more of the plaintiffs or of 1 or more of the defendants in an action in which the right sought to be enforced survives only to the surviving plaintiff or only against the surviving defendants, the action does not abate. The death shall be suggested upon the record and the action shall proceed in favor of or against the surviving parties.

(b) Incompetency. -- If a party becomes incompetent, the Court upon motion may permit the action to continue after the appointment of a guardian ad litem for such party.

(c) Transfer of interest. -- In case of any transfer of interest, the action may be continued by or against the original party, unless the Court upon motion directs the person to whom the interest is transferred to be substituted in the action or joined with the original party. Service of the motion shall be made as provided in paragraph (a) of this rule.

(d) Public officers; death or separation from office. --

(1) When an officer of the State of Delaware, a county, city or other governmental agency is a party to an action in the officer's official capacity and during its pendency dies, resigns, or otherwise ceases to hold office, the action does not abate and the officer's successor is automatically substituted as a party. Proceedings following the substitution shall be in the name of the substituted party, but any misnomer not affecting the substantial rights of the parties shall be disregarded. An order of substitution may be entered at any time but the omission to enter such an order shall not affect the substitution.

(2) When an officer of the State of Delaware, county, city or other governmental agency sues or is sued in the officer's official capacity, the officer may be described as a party by an official title rather than by name; but the Court may require that the officer's name be added.

V. DEPOSITIONS AND DISCOVERY.

Rule 26. General provisions governing discovery.

(a) Discovery methods. -- Parties may obtain discovery by 1 or more of the following methods: Depositions upon oral examination or written questions; written interrogatories; production of documents or things or permission to enter upon land or other property, for inspection and other purposes; physical and mental examinations; and requests for admission. Unless the Court orders otherwise under paragraph (c) of this rule, the frequency of use of these methods is not limited.

(b) Discovery scope and limits. -- Unless otherwise limited by order of the Court in accordance with these Rules, the scope of discovery is as follows:

(1) In general. -- Parties may obtain discovery regarding any matter, not privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action, whether it relates to the claim or defense of the party seeking discovery or to the claim or defense of any other party, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition and location of any books, documents or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of any discoverable matter. It is not ground for objection that the information sought will be inadmissible at the trial if the information sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

The frequency or extent of use of the discovery methods set forth in paragraph (a) shall be limited by the Court if it determines that: (i) the discovery sought is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative, or is obtainable from some other source that is more convenient, less burdensome, or less expensive; (ii) the party seeking discovery has had ample opportunity by discovery in the action to obtain the information sought; or (iii) the discovery is unduly burdensome or expensive, taking into account the needs of the case, the amount in controversy, limitations on the parties' resources, and the importance of the issues at stake in the litigation. The Court may act upon its own initiative after reasonable notice or pursuant to a motion under paragraph (c).

(2) Insurance agreements. -- A party may obtain discovery of the existence and contents of any insurance agreement under which any person carrying on an insurance business may be liable to satisfy part or all of a judgment which may be entered in the action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment. Information concerning the insurance agreement is not by reason of disclosure admissible in evidence at trial. For purposes of this subparagraph, an application for insurance shall not be treated as part of an insurance agreement.

(3) Trial preparation: Materials. -- Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) (4) of this rule, a party may obtain discovery of documents and tangible things otherwise discoverable under paragraph (b)(1) of this rule and prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial by or for another party or by or for that other party's representative (including the other party's attorney, consultant, surety, indemnitor, insurer, or agent) only upon a showing that the party seeking discovery has substantial need of the materials in the preparation of the party's case and that the party is unable without undue hardship to obtain the substantial equivalent of the materials by other means. In ordering discovery of such materials when the required showing has been made, the Court shall protect against disclosure of the mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, or legal theories of an attorney or other representative of a party concerning the litigation.

A party may obtain without the required showing a statement concerning the action or its subject matter previously made by that party. Upon request, a person not a party may obtain without the required showing a statement concerning the action or its subject matter previously made by that person. If the request is refused, the person may move for a Court order. The provisions of Rule 37(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion. For purposes of this paragraph, a statement previously made is (A) a written statement signed or otherwise adopted or approved by the person making it, or (B) a stenographic, mechanical, electrical, or other recording, or a transcription thereof, which is a substantially verbatim recital of an oral statement by the person making it and contemporaneously recorded.

(4) Trial preparation: Experts. -- Discovery of facts known and opinions held by experts, otherwise discoverable under the provisions of paragraph (b)(1) of this rule and acquired or developed in anticipation of litigation or for trial, may be obtained only as follows:

(A)(i) A party may through interrogatories require any other party to identify each person whom the other party expects to call as an expert witness at trial, to state the subject matter on which the expert is expected to testify, and to state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and a summary of the grounds for each opinion. (ii) Upon motion, the Court may order further discovery by other means, subject to such restrictions as to scope and such provisions, pursuant to paragraph (b)(4)(C) of this rule, concerning fees and expenses as the Court may deem appropriate.

(B) A party may discover facts known or opinions held by an expert who has been retained or specially employed by another party in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial and who is not expected to be called as a witness at trial, only as provided in Rule 35(b) or upon a showing of exceptional circumstances under which it is impracticable for the party seeking discovery to obtain facts or opinions on the same subject by other means.

(C) Unless manifest injustice would result, (i) the Court shall require that the party seeking discovery pay the expert a reasonable fee for time spent in responding to discovery under paragraphs (b)(4)(A)(ii) and (b)(4)(B) of this rule and (ii) with respect to discovery obtained under paragraphs (b)(4)(A)(ii) of this rule the Court may require, and with respect to discovery obtained under paragraph (b)(4)(B) of this rule the Court shall require, the party seeking discovery to pay the other party a fair portion of the fees and expenses reasonably incurred by the latter party in obtaining facts and opinions from the expert.

(c) Protective orders. -- Upon motion by a party or by the person from whom discovery is sought, and for good cause shown, the Court or alternatively, on matters relating to a deposition taken outside the State of Delaware, a court in the state where the deposition is to be taken may make any order which justice requires to protect a party or person from annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden or expense, including 1 or more of the following: (1) That the discovery not be had; (2) that the discovery may be had only on specified terms and conditions, including a designation of the time or place; (3) that the discovery may be had only by a method of discovery other than that selected by the party seeking discovery; (4) that certain matters not be inquired into, or that the scope of the discovery be limited to certain matters; (5) that discovery be conducted with no one present except persons designated by the Court; (6) that a deposition after being sealed be opened only by order of the Court; (7) that a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be disclosed or be disclosed only in a designated way; (8) that the parties simultaneously file specified documents or information enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by the Court.

If the motion for a protective order is denied in whole or in part, the Court may, on such terms and conditions as are just, order that any party or person provide or permit discovery. The provisions of Rule 37(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion.

(d) Sequence and timing of discovery. -- Unless the Court upon motion, for the convenience of parties and witnesses and in the interests of justice, orders otherwise, methods of discovery may be used in any sequence and the fact that a party is conducting discovery, whether by deposition or otherwise, shall not operate to delay any other party's discovery.

(e) Supplementation of responses. -- A party who has responded to a request for discovery with a response that was complete when made is under no duty to supplement the response to include information thereafter acquired, except as follows:

(1) A party is under a duty seasonably to supplement the response with respect to any question directly addressed to (A) the identity and location of persons having knowledge of discoverable matters, and (B) the identity of each person expected to be called as an expert witness at trial, the subject matter on which the person is expected to testify, and the substance of the person's testimony.

(2) A party is under a duty seasonably to amend a prior response if the party obtains information upon the basis of which (A) the party knows that the response was incorrect when made, or (B) the party knows that the response though correct when made is no longer true and the circumstances are such that a failure to amend the response is in substance a knowing concealment.

(3) A duty to supplement responses may be imposed by order of the Court, agreement of the parties, or at any time prior to trial through new requests for supplementation of prior responses.

Rule 27. Deposition before action or pending appeal.

Omitted.

Rule 28. Persons before whom depositions may be taken.

(a) Within the United States. -- Within the United States or within a territory or insular possession subject to the dominion of the United States, depositions shall be taken (1) before an officer authorized to administer oaths by the laws of the place where the examination is held, or (2) before such person or officer as may be appointed by commission or under letters rogatory.

(b) In foreign countries. -- Depositions may be taken in a foreign country (1) pursuant to any applicable treaty or convention, or (2) pursuant to a letter of request (whether or not captioned a letter rogatory), or (3) on notice before a person authorized to administer oaths in the place where the examination is held, either by the law thereof or by the law of the United States, or (4) before a person commissioned by the Court, and a person so commissioned shall have the power by virtue of the commission to administer any necessary oath and take testimony. A commission or a letter of request shall be issued on application and notice and on terms that are just and appropriate. It is not requisite to the issuance of a commission or a letter of request that the taking of the deposition in any other manner is impracticable or inconvenient; and both a commission and a letter of request may be issued in proper cases. A notice of commission may designate the person before whom the deposition is to be taken either by name or descriptive title. A letter of request may be addressed "To the Appropriate Authority in (here name the country)." When a letter of request or any other device is used pursuant to any applicable treaty or convention, it shall be captioned in the form prescribed by that treaty or convention. Evidence obtained in response to a letter of request need not be excluded merely because it is not a verbatim transcript, because the testimony was not taken under oath, or because of any similar departure from the requirements for depositions taken within the United States under these Rules.

(c) Disqualification for interest. -- No depositions shall be taken before a person who is a relative or employee or attorney or counsel of any of the parties, or is a relative or employee of such attorney or counsel, or is financially interested in the action.

(d) Omitted.

Rule 29. Stipulations regarding discovery procedure.

Unless the Court orders otherwise, the parties may by written stipulation (1) provide that depositions may be taken before any person, at any time or place, upon any notice, and in any manner and when so taken may be used like other depositions, and (2) modify the procedures provided by these Rules for other methods of discovery.

Rule 30. Depositions upon oral examination.

(a) When depositions may be taken. -- After commencement of the action, any party may take the testimony of any person, including a party, by deposition upon oral examination. Leave of Court, granted with or without notice, must be obtained only if the plaintiff seeks to take a deposition prior to the expiration of 30 days after service of the summons and complaint upon any defendant, except that leave is not required (1) if a defendant has served a notice of taking deposition or otherwise sought discovery, or (2) if special notice is given as provided in paragraph (b) (2) of this rule. The attendance of witnesses may be compelled by subpoena as provided in Rule 45. The deposition of a person confined in prison may be taken only by leave of court on such terms as the Court prescribes.

(b) Notice of examination: general requirements; special notice; method of recording; production of documents and things; deposition of organization. --

(1) A party desiring to take the deposition of any person upon oral examination shall give reasonable notice in writing to every other party to the action. The notice shall state the time and place for taking the deposition and the name and address of each person to be examined, if known, and, if the name is not known, a general description sufficient to identify the person or the particular class or group to which the person belongs. If a subpoena duces tecum is to be served on the person to be examined, the designation of the materials to be produced as set forth in the subpoena shall be attached to or included in the notice. The party taking the deposition shall state in the notice the method by which the testimony shall be recorded.

(2) Leave of court is not required for the taking of a deposition by plaintiff if the notice (A) states that the person to be examined is about to go out of the State of Delaware and will be unavailable for examination unless the person's deposition is taken before the expiration of the 30-day period, and (B) sets forth facts to support the statement. The plaintiff's attorney shall sign the notice, and the attorney's signature constitutes a certification by the attorney that to the best of the attorney's knowledge, information, and belief the statement and supporting facts are true. The sanctions provided by Rule 11 are applicable to the certification.

(3) The Court may for cause shown enlarge or shorten the time for taking the deposition.

(4) Unless the court orders otherwise, a deposition may be recorded by sound, sound-and-visual, or stenographic means, and the party taking the deposition shall bear the cost of recording. Any party may arrange for a transcription to be made from the recording of a deposition taken by nonstenographic means. With prior notice to the deponent and other parties, any party may designate another method to record the deponent's testimony in addition to the method specified by the person taking the deposition.

(5) The notice to a party deponent may be accompanied by a request made in compliance with Rule 34 for the production of documents and tangible things at the taking of the deposition. The procedure of Rule 34 shall apply to the request.

(6) A party may in the party's notice name as the deponent a public or private corporation or a partnership or association or governmental agency and designate with reasonable particularity the matters on which examination is requested. The organization so named shall designate 1 or more officers, directors, or managing agents, or other persons who consent to testify on its behalf, and may set forth, for each person designated, the matters on which the person will testify. The persons so designated shall testify as to matters known or reasonably available to the organization. This paragraph (b)(6) does not preclude taking a deposition by any other procedure authorized in these Rules.

(7) The parties may stipulate in writing or the Court may upon motion order that a deposition be taken by telephone or other remote electronic means. For purposes of this Rule and Rules 28(a), 37(a)(1) and 45(a), a deposition taken by such means is taken in the jurisdiction and at the place where the deponent is to answer questions.

(c) Examination and cross-examination: record of examination; oath; objections. -- Examination and cross-examination of witnesses may proceed as permitted at the trial under the provisions of Rule 43(b). The officer before whom the deposition is to be taken shall personally, or by someone acting under the officer's direction and in the officer's presence, record the testimony of the witness. The testimony shall be taken stenographically or recorded by any other method authorized by paragraph (b)(4) of this rule. If requested by 1 of the parties, the testimony shall be transcribed. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, a deposition shall be conducted before an officer appointed or designated under Rule 28 and shall begin with a statement on the record by the officer that includes (A) the officer's name and business address; (B) the date, time, and place of the deposition; (C) the name of the deponent; (D) the administration of the oath or affirmation to the deponent; and (E) an identification of all persons present. If the deposition is recorded other than stenographically, the officer shall repeat items (A) through (C) at the beginning of each unit of recorded tape or other recording medium. The appearance or demeanor of deponents or attorneys shall not be distorted through camera or sound-recording techniques. At the end of the deposition, the officer shall state on the record that the deposition is complete and shall set forth any stipulations made by counsel concerning the custody of the transcript or recording and the exhibits, or concerning other pertinent matters.

All objections made at the time of the examination to the qualifications of the officer taking the deposition, to the manner of taking it, to the evidence presented, to the conduct of any party, or to any other aspect of the proceedings, shall be noted by the officer upon the record of deposition. Evidence objected to shall be taken subject to the objections. In lieu of participating in the oral examination, parties may serve written questions in a sealed envelope on the party taking the deposition and the party taking the deposition shall transmit them to the officer, who shall propound them to the witness and record the answers verbatim.

(d) Schedule and duration; motion to terminate or limit examination.

(1) From the commencement until the conclusion of a deposition, including any recesses or continuances thereof of less than five calendar days, the attorney(s) for the deponent shall not: (A) consult or confer with the deponent regarding the substance of the testimony already given or anticipated to be given, except for the purpose of conferring on whether to assert a privilege against testifying or on how to comply with a court order, or (B) suggest to the deponent the manner in which any questions should be answered. A person may instruct a deponent not to answer only when necessary to preserve a privilege, to enforce a limitation on evidence directed by the Court, or to present a motion under paragraph (d)(3).

(2) By order, the court may limit the time permitted for the conduct of a deposition, but shall allow additional time consistent with Rule 26(c) if needed for a fair examination of the deponent or if the deponent or another party impedes or delays the examination. If the court finds such an impediment, delay or other conduct that has frustrated the fair examination of the deponent, it may impose upon the persons responsible an appropriate sanction, including the reasonable costs and attorney's fees incurred by any party as a result thereof.

(3) At any time during the taking of the deposition, on motion of a party or of the deponent and upon a showing that the examination is being conducted or defended in bad faith or in such manner as unreasonably to annoy, embarrass or oppress the deponent or party, the Court in which the action is pending or a Court of competent jurisdiction in the state where the deposition is being taken may order: (A) that examination cease forthwith; (B) that the scope and manner of the taking of the deposition be limited as provided in Rule 26(c); or (C) such other relief as the Court reasonably deems to be appropriate. If the order made terminates the examination, it shall be resumed thereafter only upon the order of the Court in which the action is pending. Upon demand of the objecting party or deponent, the taking of the deposition shall be suspended for the time necessary to make a motion for an order. The provisions of Rule 37(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion.

(e) Submission to witness; changes; signing. -- When the testimony is fully transcribed, the deposition shall be submitted to the witness for examination and shall be read to or by the witness, unless such examination and reading are waived by the witness and by the parties. Any changes in form or substance which the witness desires to make shall be entered upon the deposition by the officer with a statement of the reasons given by the witness for making them. The deposition shall then be signed by the witness, unless the parties by stipulation waive the signing or the witness is ill or cannot be found or refuses to sign. If the deposition is not signed by the witness within 30 days after the date when the reporter notifies the witness and counsel by mail of availability for examination by the witness, the officer shall sign it and state on the record the fact of the waiver or of the illness or absence of the witness or the fact of the refusal to sign together with the reason, if any, given therefor; and the deposition may then be used as fully as though signed, unless a motion to suppress under Rule 32(d) the Court holds that the reasons given for the refusal to sign require rejection of the deposition in whole or in part.

(f) Certification by officer; exhibit, copies; notice of filing. --

(1) The officer shall certify that the witness was duly sworn by the officer and that the deposition is a true record of the testimony given by the witness. The certification shall be in writing and accompany the record of the deposition. The officer shall securely seal the deposition in an envelope indorsed with the title of the action and marked "Deposition of (here insert name of witness)" and shall promptly send it by registered or certified mail to the attorney who arranged for the transcript or recording, who shall store it under conditions that will protect it against loss, destruction, tampering or deterioration.

Documents and things produced for inspection during the examination of the witness, shall, upon the request of the party, be marked for identification and annexed to and returned with the deposition, and may be inspected and copied by any party, except that (A) the person producing the materials may substitute copies to be marked for identification, if the person affords to all parties fair opportunity to verify the copies by comparison with the originals, and (B) if the person producing the materials requests their return, the officer shall mark them, give each party an opportunity to inspect and copy them, and return them to the person producing them, and the materials may then be used in the same manner as if annexed to and returned with the deposition. Any party may move for an order that the original be annexed to and returned with the deposition to the Court, pending final deposition of the case.

(2) Unless otherwise ordered by the court or agreed by the parties, the officer shall retain stenographic notes of any deposition taken stenographically or a copy of the recording of any deposition taken by another method. Upon payment of reasonable charges therefor, the officer shall furnish a copy of the transcript or other recording of the deposition to any party or to the deponent.

(3) The party taking the deposition shall give prompt notice of its filing to all other parties.

(g) Failure to attend or to serve subpoena; expenses. --

(1) If the party giving the notice of the taking of a deposition fails to attend and proceed therewith and another party attends in person or by an attorney pursuant to the notice, the Court may order the party giving the notice to pay to such other party reasonable attorney's fees incurred by that party and that party's attorney in attending.

(2) If the party giving the notice of the taking of a deposition of a witness fails to serve a subpoena upon the witness and the witness because of such failure does not attend, and if another party attends in person or by an attorney because that party expects the deposition of that witness to be taken, the Court may order the party giving the notice to pay to such other party the reasonable expenses incurred by that party and that party's attorney in attending, including reasonable attorney's fees.

(h) Counsel fees on taking depositions; depositions more than 150 miles distant. -- In the case of a proposed deposition upon oral examination at a place more than 150 miles from the courthouse where the action was commenced, the Court may order or impose as a condition of denying a motion to vacate notice thereof, that the applicant shall pay the expense of the attendance of 1 attorney for the adversary party or parties, at the place where the deposition is to be taken, including reasonable counsel fees, which amounts shall be paid or secured prior to such examination. The amount paid by such applicant to the applicant's adversary on account of attorney's fees and expenses may be a taxable disbursement in the event that the applicant recovers costs of the action.

Rule 31. Depositions upon written questions.

(a) Serving questions; notice. -- After commencement of the action, any party may take the testimony of any person, including a party, by deposition upon written questions. The attendance of witnesses may be compelled by the use of subpoena as provided in Rule 45. The deposition of a person confined in prison may be taken only by leave of court on such terms as the Court prescribes.

A party desiring to take a deposition upon written questions shall serve them upon every other party with a notice stating (1) the name and address of the person who is to answer them, if known, and if the name is not known, a general description sufficient to identify the person or the particular class or group to which the person belongs, and (2) the name or descriptive title and address of the officer before whom the deposition is to be taken. A deposition upon written questions may be taken of a public or private corporation or a partnership or association or governmental agency in accordance with the provisions of Rule 30(b)(6).

Within 14 days after the notice and written questions are served, a party may serve cross questions upon all other parties. Within 7 days after being served with cross questions, a party may serve redirect questions upon all other parties. Within 7 days after being served with redirect questions, a party may serve recross questions upon all other parties. The Court may for cause shown enlarge or shorten the time.

(b) Officer to take responses and prepare record. -- A copy of the notice and copies of all questions served shall be delivered by the party taking the deposition to the officer designated in the notice, who shall proceed promptly, in the manner provided by Rule 30(c), (e), and (f), to take the testimony of the witness in response to the questions and to prepare, certify, and file or mail the deposition, attaching thereto the copy of the notice and the questions received by the officer.

(c) Notice of filing. -- When the deposition is filed the party taking it shall promptly give notice thereof to all other parties.

Rule 32. Use of depositions in court proceedings.

(a) Use of depositions. -- At the trial or upon the hearing of a motion or an interlocutory proceeding, any part or all of a deposition, so far as admissible under the rules of evidence applied as though the witness were then present and testifying, may be used against any party who was present or represented at the taking of the deposition or who had reasonable notice thereof, in accordance with any of the following provisions:

(1) Any deposition may be used by any party for the purpose of contradicting or impeaching the testimony of deponent as a witness.

(2) The deposition of a party or of anyone who at the time of taking the deposition was an officer, director or managing agent, or a person designated under Rule 30(b)(6) or 31(a) to testify on behalf of a public or private corporation, partnership or association or governmental agency which is a party may be used by an adverse party for any purpose.

(3) The deposition of a witness, whether or not a party, may be used by any party for any purpose if the Court finds: (A) That the witness is dead; or (B) that the witness is out of the State of Delaware, unless it appears that the absence of the witness was procured by the party offering the deposition; or (C) that the witness is unable to attend or testify because of age, illness, infirmity, or imprisonment; or (D) that the party offering the deposition has been unable to procure the attendance of the witness by subpoena; or (E) upon application and notice, that such exceptional circumstances exist as to make it desirable, in the interest of justice and with due regard to the importance of presenting the testimony of witnesses orally in open court, to allow the deposition to be used.

A deposition taken without leave of court pursuant to a notice under Rule 30(b)(2) shall not be used against a party who demonstrates that, when served with the notice, it was unable through the exercise of diligence to obtain counsel to represent it at the taking of the deposition; nor shall a deposition be used against a party who, having received less than 11 days notice of a deposition, has promptly upon receiving such notice filed a motion for a protective order under Rule 26(c)(2) requesting that the deposition not be held or be held at a different time or place and such motion is pending at the time the deposition is held.

(4) If only part of a deposition is offered in evidence by a party, an adverse party may require the offer or to introduce any other part which ought in fairness to be considered with the part introduced, and any party may introduce any other parts.

Substitution of parties pursuant to Rule 25 does not affect the right to use depositions previously taken; and, when an action in any court of the United States or of any state has been dismissed and another action involving the same subject matter is afterward brought between the same parties or their representatives or successors in interest, all depositions lawfully taken and duly filed in the former action may be used in the latter as if originally taken therefor.

(b) Objections to admissibility. -- Subject to the provisions of Rule 28(b) and paragraph (d)(3) of this rule, objection may be made at the trial or hearing to receiving in evidence any deposition or part thereof for any reason which would require the exclusion of the evidence if the witness were then present and testifying.

(c) Effect of taking or using depositions. -- A party does not make a person the party's own witness for any purpose by taking the person's deposition. The introduction in evidence of the deposition or any part thereof for any purpose other than that of contradicting or impeaching the deponent makes the deponent the witness of the party introducing the deposition, but this shall not apply to the use by an adverse party of a deposition under paragraph (a)(2) of this rule. At the trial or hearing any party may rebut any relevant evidence contained in a deposition whether introduced by that party or by any other party.

(d) Effect of errors and irregularities in depositions. --

(1) As to notice. -- All errors and irregularities in the notice for taking a deposition are waived unless written objection is promptly served upon the party giving the notice.

(2) As to disqualification of officer. -- Objection to taking a deposition because of disqualification of the officer before whom it is to be taken is waived unless made before the taking of the deposition begins or as soon thereafter as the disqualification becomes known or could be discovered with reasonable diligence.

(3) As to taking of deposition. --

(A) Objections to the competency of a witness or to the competency, relevancy, or materiality of testimony are not waived by failure to make them before or during the taking of the deposition, unless the ground of the objection is one which might have been obviated or removed if presented at that time.

(B) Errors and irregularities occurring at the oral examination in the manner of taking the deposition, in the form of the questions or answers, in the oath or affirmation, or in the conduct of parties, and errors of any kind which might be obviated, removed, or cured if promptly presented, are waived unless seasonable objection thereto is made at the taking of the deposition.

(C) Objections to the form of written questions submitted under Rule 31 are waived unless served in writing upon the party propounding them within the time allowed for serving the succeeding cross or other questions and within 5 days after service of the last questions authorized.

(4) As to completion and return of depositions. -- Error and irregularities in the manner in which the testimony is transcribed or the deposition is prepared, signed, certified, sealed, indorsed, transmitted, filed, or otherwise dealt with by the officer under Rules 30 and 31 are waived unless a motion to suppress the deposition or some part thereof is made with reasonable promptness after such defect is, or with due diligence might have been, ascertained.

(e) Form of presentation. -- Except as otherwise directed by the Court, a party offering deposition testimony pursuant to this rule may offer it in stenographic or nonstenographic form, but, if in nonstenographic form, the party shall also provide the Court with a transcript of the portions so offered.

Rule 33. Interrogatories to parties.

(a) Availability. -- Any party may serve upon any other party written interrogatories to be answered by the party served or, if the party served is a public or private corporation or a partnership or association or governmental agency, by any officer or agent, who shall furnish such information as is available to the party. Interrogatories may, without leave of court, be served upon the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the summons and complaint upon that party.

(b) Answers and objections. --

(1) Each interrogatory shall be restated as numbered and shall be answered separately and fully in writing under oath, unless it is objected to, in which event the objecting party shall state the reasons for objection and shall answer to the extent the interrogatory is not objectionable.

(2) The answers are to be signed by the person making them, and the objections signed by the attorney making them.

(3) The party upon whom the interrogatories have been served shall serve a copy of the answers, and objections if any, within 30 days after the service of the interrogatories, except that a defendant may serve answers or objections within 45 days after service of the summons and complaint upon that defendant. The Court may allow a shorter or longer time.

(4) All grounds for an objection to an interrogatory shall be stated with specificity. Any ground not stated in a timely objection is waived unless the party's failure to object is excused by the Court for good cause shown.

(5) The party submitting the interrogatories may move for an order under Rule 37(a) with respect to any objection to or other failure to answer an interrogatory.

(c) Scope; use at trial. -- Interrogatories may relate to any matters which can be inquired into under Rule 26(b), and the answers may be used to the extent permitted by the rules of evidence.

An interrogatory otherwise proper is not necessarily objectionable merely because an answer to the interrogatory involves an opinion or contention that relates to fact or the application of law to fact, but the Court may order that such an interrogatory need not be answered until after designated discovery has been completed or until a pretrial conference or other later time.

(d) Option to produce business records. -- Where the answer to an interrogatory may be derived or ascertained from the business records of the party upon whom the interrogatory has been served or from an examination, audit or inspection of such business records, or from a compilation, abstract or summary based thereon, and the burden of deriving or ascertaining the answer is substantially the same for the party serving the interrogatory as for the party served, it is a sufficient answer to such interrogatory to specify the records from which the answer may be derived or ascertained and to afford to the party serving the interrogatory reasonable opportunity to examine, audit or inspect such records and to make copies, compilations, abstracts or summaries.

Rule 34. Production of documents and things and entry upon land for inspection and other purposes.

(a) Scope. -- Any party may serve on any other party a request (1) to produce and permit the party making the request, or someone acting on the requestor's behalf, to inspect and copy, any designated documents (including writings, drawings, graphs, charts, photographs, phono-records, and other data compilations from which information can be obtained, translated, if necessary, by the respondent through detection devices into reasonably usable form), or to inspect and copy, test, or sample any tangible things which constitute or contain matters within the scope of Rule 26(b) and which are in the possession, custody or control of the party upon whom the request is served; or (2) to permit entry upon designated land or other property in the possession or control of the party upon whom the request is served for the purpose of inspection and measuring, surveying, photographing, testing, or sampling the property or any designated object or operation thereon, within the scope of Rule 26(b).

(b) Procedure. -- The request may, without leave of court, be served upon the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the summons and complaint upon that party. The request shall set forth the items to be inspected either by individual item or by category, and describe each item and category with reasonable particularity. The request shall specify a reasonable time, place, and manner of making the inspection and performing the related acts.

The party upon whom the request is served shall serve a written response within 30 days after the service of the request, except that a defendant may serve a response within 45 days after service of the summons and complaint upon that defendant. The Court may allow a shorter or longer time. The response shall state, with respect to each item or category, that inspection and related activities will be permitted as requested, unless the request is objected to, in which event the reasons for objection shall be stated. If objection is made to part of an item or category, the part shall be specified and inspection permitted of the remaining parts. The party submitting the request may move for an order under Rule 37(a) with respect to any objection to or other failure to respond to the request or any part thereof, or any failure to permit inspection as requested.

(c) Persons not parties. -- A person not a party to the action may be compelled to produce documents and things or to submit to an inspection as provided in Rule 45.

Rule 35. Physical and mental examination of persons.

(a) Order for examination. -- When the mental or physical condition (including the blood group) of a party, or of a person in the custody or under the legal control of a party, is in controversy, the Court in which the action is pending may order the party to submit to a physical or mental examination by a suitably licensed or certified examiner or to produce for examination the person in the party's custody or legal control. The order may be made only on motion for good cause and upon notice to the person to be examined and to all parties and shall specify the time, place, manner, conditions, and scope of the examination and the person or persons by whom it is to be made.

(b) Report of examiner. --

(1) If requested by the party against whom an order is made under Rule 35(a) or the person examined, the party causing the examination to be made shall deliver to the requestor a copy of a detailed written report of the examiner setting out the examiner's findings, including results of all tests made, diagnoses and conclusions, together with like reports of all earlier examinations of the same condition. After delivery the party causing the examination shall be entitled upon request to receive from the party against whom the order is made a like report of any examination, previously or thereafter made, of the same condition, unless, in the case of a report of examination of a person not a party, the party shows that such party is unable to obtain it. The Court on motion may make an order against a party requiring delivery of a report on such terms as are just, and if an examiner fails or refuses to make a report the Court may exclude the examiner's testimony if offered at the trial.

(2) By requesting and obtaining a report of the examination so ordered or by taking the deposition of the examiner, the party examined waives any privilege the party may have in that action or any other involving the same controversy, regarding the testimony of every other person who has examined or may thereafter examine the party in respect of the same mental or physical condition.

(3) This paragraph applies to examinations made by agreement of the parties, unless the agreement expressly provides otherwise. This paragraph does not preclude discovery of a report of an examiner or the taking of a deposition of the examiner in accordance with the provisions of any other rule.

Rule 36. Requests for admission.

(a) Request for admission. -- A party may serve upon any other party a written request for the admission, for purposes of the pending action only, of the truth of any matters within the scope of Rule 26(b) set forth in the request that relate to statements or opinions of fact or of the application of law to fact, including the genuineness of any documents described in the request. Copies of documents shall be served with the request unless they have been or are otherwise furnished or made available for inspection and copying. The request may, without leave of court, be served upon the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the summons and complaint upon that party.

Each matter of which an admission is requested shall be separately set forth. The matter is admitted unless, within 30 days after service of the request, or within such shorter or longer time as the Court may allow, the party to whom the request is directed serves upon the party requesting the admission a written answer or objection addressed to the matter, signed by the party or by the party's attorney, but, unless the Court shortens the time, a defendant shall not be required to serve answers or objections before the expiration of 45 days after service of the summons and complaint upon the defendant. If objection is made, the reasons therefore shall be stated. The answer shall specifically deny the matter or set forth in detail the reasons why the answering party cannot truthfully admit or deny the matter. A denial shall fairly meet the substance of the requested admission, and when good faith requires that a party qualify an answer or deny only a part of the matter of which an admission is requested, the party shall specify so much of it as is true and qualify or deny the remainder. An answering party may not give lack of information or knowledge as a reason for failure to admit or deny unless the party states that the party has made reasonable inquiry and that the information known or readily obtainable by the party is insufficient to enable the party to admit or deny. A party who considers that a matter of which an admission has been requested presents a genuine issue for trial may not, on that ground alone, object to the request; the party may, subject to the provisions of Rule 37(c), deny the matter or set forth reasons why the party cannot admit or deny it.

The party who has requested the admissions may move to determine the sufficiency of the answers or objections. Unless the Court determines that an objection is justified, it shall order that an answer be served. If the Court determines that an answer does not comply with the requirements of this Rule, it may order either that the matter is admitted or that an amended answer be served. The court may, in lieu of these orders, determine that final disposition of the request be made at a pretrial conference or at a designated time prior to trial. The provisions of Rule 37(a)(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion.

(b) Effect of admission. -- Any matter admitted under this Rule is conclusively established unless the Court on motion permits withdrawal or amendment of the admission. Subject to the provisions of Rule 16 governing amendment of a pretrial order, the Court may permit withdrawal or amendment when the presentation of the merits of the action will be subserved thereby and the party who obtained the admission fails to satisfy the Court that withdrawal or amendment will prejudice that party in maintaining the action or defense on the merits. Any admission made by a party under this rule is for the purpose of the pending action only and is not an admission for any other purpose nor may it be used against the party in any other proceeding.

Rule 37. Failure to make discovery: Sanctions.

(a) Motion for order compelling discovery. -- A party, upon reasonable notice to other parties and all persons affected thereby, may apply for an order compelling discovery as follows:

(1) Appropriate court. -- An application for an order to a party may be made to the Court or, alternatively, on matters relating to a deposition taken outside the State of Delaware, to a court in the state where the deposition is being taken. An application for an order to a deponent who is not a party shall be made to a court in the state where the deposition is being taken.

(2) Motion. -- If a deponent fails to answer a question propounded or submitted under Rule 30 or 31, or a corporation or other entity fails to make a designation under Rule 30(b)(6) or 31(a), or a party fails to answer an interrogatory submitted under Rule 33, or if a party, in response to a request for inspection submitted under Rule 34, fails to respond that inspection will be permitted as requested or fails to permit inspection as requested, the discovering party may move for an order compelling an answer, or a designation, or an order compelling inspection in accordance with the request. When taking a deposition on oral examination, the proponent of the question may complete or adjourn the examination before the proponent applies for an order.

(3) Evasive or incomplete answer or response. -- For purposes of this paragraph an evasive or incomplete answer or response is to be treated as a failure to answer or respond.

(4) Expenses and sanctions. --

(A) If the motion is granted or if the disclosure or requested discovery is provided after the motion was filed, the Court shall, after affording an opportunity to be heard, require the party or deponent whose conduct necessitated the motion or the party or attorney advising such conduct or both of them to pay to the moving party the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including the attorney's fees, unless the Court finds that the opposition to the motion was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

(B) If the motion is denied, the Court may enter any protective order authorized under Rule 26(c) and shall, after affording an opportunity to be heard, require the moving party or the attorney advising the motion or both of them to pay to the party or deponent who opposed the motion the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion, including attorney's fees, unless the Court finds that the making of the motion was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

(C) If the motion is granted in part and denied in part, the Court may enter any protective order authorized under Rule 26(c) and may, after affording an opportunity to be heard, apportion the reasonable expenses incurred in relation to the motion among the parties and persons in a just manner.

(b) Failure to comply with order. --

(1) Omitted.

(2) Sanctions by Court. -- If a party or an officer, director, or managing agent of a party or a person designated under Rule 30(b)(6) or 31(a) to testify on behalf of a party fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery, including an order made under paragraph (a) of this rule or Rule 35, the Court may make such orders in regard to the failure as are just, and among others the following:

(A) An order that the matters regarding which the order was made or any other designated facts shall be taken to be established for the purposes of the action in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining the order;

(B) An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting that party from introducing designated matters in evidence;

(C) An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party;

(D) In lieu of any of the foregoing order or in addition thereto, an order treating as a contempt of court the failure to obey any orders except an order to submit to a physical or mental examination;

(E) Where a party has failed to comply with an order under Rule 35(a) requiring that party to produce another for examination, such orders as are listed in paragraphs (A), (B), and (C) of this subparagraph, unless the party failing to comply shows that that party is unable to produce such person for examination.

In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, the Court shall require the party failing to obey the order or the attorney advising that party or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, caused by the failure, unless the Court finds that the failure was substantially justified or that other circumstances made an award of expenses unjust.

(c) Expenses on failure to admit. -- If a party fails to admit the genuineness of any document or the truth of any matter as requested under Rule 36, and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of the document or the truth of the matter, the requesting party may apply to the Court for an order requiring the other party to pay the reasonable expenses incurred in making that proof, including reasonable attorney's fees. The Court shall make the order unless it finds that (1) the request was held objectionable pursuant to Rule 35(a), or (2) the admission sought was of no substantial importance, or (3) the party failing to admit had reasonable ground to believe that the party might prevail on the matter, or (4) there was other good reasons for the failure to admit.

(d) Failure of party to attend at own deposition or serve answers to interrogatories or respond to request for inspection. -- If a party or an officer, director, or managing agent of a party or a person designated under Rule 30(b)(6) or 31(a) to testify on behalf of a party fails (1) to appear before the officer who is to take the deposition, after being served with a proper notice, or (2) to serve answers or objections to interrogatories submitted under Rule 33, after proper service of the interrogatories, or (3) to serve a written response to a request for inspection submitted under Rule 34, after proper service of the request, the Court in which the actions pending on motion may make such orders in regard to the failure as are just, and among others it may take any action authorized under paragraphs (A), (B), and (C) of paragraph (b)(2) of this rule. In lieu of any order or in addition thereto, the Court shall require the party failing to act or the attorney advising that party or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, caused by the failure, unless the Court finds that the failure was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

The failure to act described in this paragraph may not be excused on the ground that the discovery sought is objectionable unless the party failing to act has applied for a protective order as provided by Rule 26(c).

(e), (f) Omitted.

VI. TRIALS.

Rule 38. Jury trial of right.

Omitted.

Rule 39. Trial by jury or by the Court.

Omitted.

Rule 40. Call of calendar, duty of register; continuances.

(a) Calendar call; each county; time. -- Each year on the first Monday of March in Kent and Sussex Counties and on the second Monday of April in New Castle County, at such times as the Court shall fix, the Judges of the Court of Chancery shall call the calendar of all pending cases. The Court may by special order fix different or additional dates for such purpose.

The Register shall prepare a list of all cases pending 60 or more days prior to the time fixed for the call of the calendar, and at least 10 days prior thereto shall cause a copy of the list to be mailed to each attorney of record in such cases; alternatively, the register may mail to each attorney of record in such cases notice that the list has been prepared and is available for distribution in the office of the Register. The list shall state the time and place of the calling of the calendar and shall indicate that the call is primarily for the purpose of determining whether there has been any undue delay in connection with pending matters. The call is not for the purpose of fixing argument or hearing dates.

(b) Omitted.

(c) Attorneys to be present at calendar call. -- At the call of the calendar the attorneys will be expected to be present and explain the status of the case and any apparently unusual delay. The Court will then take such action as is deemed to be in the best interest of the proper administration of justice.

(d) Continuance; absence of material witness. -- Every motion for continuance upon the ground of the absence of or unavailability of a material witness shall be filed as soon as said absence or unavailability becomes known and shall be accompanied by an affidavit on behalf of the party applying therefor, setting forth the facts which the party expects to prove by such witness, the efforts made to procure the attendance of the witness, and the date when the absence or unavailability of the witness became known. If it be stipulated by the opposite party, that the witness if called would testify as set forth in the affidavit, the Court, in its discretion, may refuse the motion, and under such circumstances, the affidavit may be offered in evidence at the trial.

Rule 41. Dismissal of actions.

(a) Voluntary dismissal; effect thereof. --

(1) By plaintiff; by stipulation. -- Subject to payment of costs and the provisions of Rule 23(e) and Rule 23.1 an action may be dismissed by the plaintiff without order of court (i) by filing a notice of dismissal at any time before service by the adverse party of an answer or of a motion for summary judgment, whichever first occurs or (ii) by filing a stipulation or dismissal signed by all the parties who have appeared in the action. Unless otherwise stated in the notice of dismissal or stipulation, the dismissal is without prejudice, except that a notice of dismissal operates as an adjudication upon the merits when filed by a plaintiff who has once dismissed in any court of the United States or of any state an action based on or including the same claim.

(2) By order of Court. -- Except as provided in paragraph (1) of this subdivision of this Rule, an action shall not be dismissed at the plaintiff's instance save upon order of the Court and upon such terms and conditions as the Court deems proper. If a counterclaim has been pleaded by a defendant prior to the service upon defendant of the plaintiff's motion to dismiss, the action shall not be dismissed against the defendants' objection unless the counterclaim can remain pending for independent adjudication by the Court. Unless otherwise specified in the order, a dismissal under this paragraph is without prejudice.

(b) Involuntary dismissal; effect thereof. -- For failure of the plaintiff to prosecute or to comply with these Rules or any order of court, a defendant may move for dismissal of an action or of any claim against the defendant. After the plaintiff has completed the presentation of plaintiff's evidence, the defendant, without waiving the right to offer evidence in the event the motion is not granted, may move for a dismissal on the ground that upon the facts and the law the plaintiff has shown no right to relief. The Court as trier of the facts may then determine them and render judgment against the plaintiff or may decline to render any judgment until the close of all the evidence. Unless the Court in its order for dismissal otherwise specifies, a dismissal under this paragraph and any dismissal not provided for in this Rule, other than a dismissal for lack of jurisdiction or for improper venue, or for failure to join a party under Rule 19, operates as an adjudication upon the merits.

(c) Dismissal of counterclaim, cross-claim or third-party claim. -- The provisions of this Rule apply to the dismissal of any counterclaim, cross-claim, or third-party claim. A voluntary dismissal by the claimant alone pursuant to subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of this rule shall be made before a responsive pleading is served or, if there is none, before the introduction of evidence at the trial or hearing.

(d) Costs of previously dismissed action. -- If a plaintiff who has once dismissed an action in any court commences an action based upon or including the same claim against the same defendant, the Court may make such order for the payment of costs of the action previously dismissed as it may deem proper and may stay the proceedings in the action until the plaintiff has complied with the order.

(e) Inaction for 1 year; dismissal. -- Subject to the provisions of Rules 23, 23.1 and 23.2 in each cause pending wherein no action has been taken for a period of 1 year, the Court may upon application of any party, or on its own motion, and after reasonable notice, enter an order dismissing such cause unless good reason for the inaction is given, or the parties have stipulated with the approval of the Court as to such matter.

Rule 42. Consolidations: Separate trials.

(a) Consolidation. -- When actions involving a common question of law or fact are pending before the Court, it may order a joint hearing or trial of any or all the matters in issue in the actions; it may order all the actions consolidated; and it may make such orders concerning proceedings therein as may tend to avoid unnecessary costs or delay.

(b) Separate trials. -- The Court in furtherance of convenience or to avoid prejudice or when separate trials will be conducive to expedition and economy, may order a separate trial of any claim, cross-claim, counterclaim or third-party claim, or of any separate issue or of any number of claims, cross-claims, counterclaims, third-party claims or issues.

Rule 43. Evidence.

(a) Form and admissibility. -- In all trials the testimony of witnesses shall be taken orally in open court, unless otherwise provided by these Rules, by statute or by order for cause. All evidence shall be admitted which is admissible under statute or under the rules of evidence applied in the courts of the State of Delaware. In any case, the evidence shall be presented according to the most convenient method prescribed in any of the statutes or rules to which reference is herein made. The competency of a witness to testify shall be determined in like manner.

(b) Scope of examination and cross-examination. -- A party to the record in any action or judicial proceeding may interrogate any unwilling or hostile witness by leading questions. Such party may call an adverse party or person for whose immediate benefit any action or judicial proceeding is prosecuted or defended, or an officer, director or managing agent of a public or private corporation or of a partnership or association which is an adverse party, and interrogate the witness thus called by leading questions and contradict and impeach the witness in all respects as if the witness had been called by the adverse party and the witness may be contradicted and impeached by or on behalf of the adverse party also and may be cross-examined by the adverse party only upon the subject matter of the witness' examination in chief.

(c) Record of excluded evidence. -- If an objection to a question propounded to a witness is sustained by the Court, the examining attorney may make a specific offer of what the examining attorney expects to prove by the answer of the witness. The Court may add such other or further statement as clearly shows the character of the evidence, the form in which it was offered, the objection made, and the ruling thereon. The Court upon request shall take and report the evidence in full, unless it clearly appears that the evidence is not admissible on any ground or that the witness is privileged.

(d) Affirmation; when; form. -- A person conscientiously scrupulous of taking an oath may be permitted, instead of swearing, solemnly, sincerely and truly to declare and affirm to the truth of the matters to be testified.

(e) Evidence on motions. -- When a motion is based on facts not appearing of record the Court may hear the matter on affidavits presented by the respective parties, but the Court may direct that the matter be heard wholly or partly on oral testimony or depositions.

Rule 44. Proof of official record.

(a) Authentication. --

(1) Domestic. -- An official record kept within the United States, or any state, district, or commonwealth, or within a territory subject to the administrative or judicial jurisdiction of the United States, or an entry therein, when admissible for any purpose, may be evidenced by an official publication thereof or by a copy attested by the officer having the legal custody of the record, or by the officer's deputy, and accompanied with a certificate that such officer has the custody. The certificate may be made by a judge of a court of record of the political subdivision in which the record is kept, authenticated by the seal of the court, or may be made by any public officer having a seal of office and having official duties in the political subdivision in which the record is kept, authenticated by the officer's seal.

(2) Foreign. -- A foreign official record, or any entry therein, when admissible for any purpose, may be evidenced by an official publication thereof; or a copy thereof, attested by a person authorized to make the attestation, and accompanied by a final certification as to the genuineness of the signature and official position (i) of the attesting person, or (ii) of any foreign official whose certificate of genuineness of signature and official position relates to the attestation or is in a chain of certificates of genuineness of signature and official position relating to the attestation. A final certification may be made by a secretary of embassy or legation, consul general, consul, vice consul, or consular agent of the United States, or a diplomatic or consular official of the foreign country assigned or accredited to the United States. If reasonable opportunity has been given to all parties to investigate the authenticity and accuracy of the documents, the Court may, for good cause shown, (i) admit an attested copy without final certification or (ii) permit the foreign official record to be evidenced by an attested summary with or without a final certification. The final certification is unnecessary if the record and the attestation are certified as provided in a treaty or convention to which the United States and the foreign country in which the official record is located are parties.

(b) Lack of record. -- A written statement that after diligent search no record or entry of a specified tenor is found to exist in the records, designated by the statement authenticated as provided in paragraph (a)(1) of this rule in the case of a domestic record, or complying with the requirements of paragraph (a)(2) of this rule for a summary in the case of a foreign record, is admissible as evidence that the records contain no such record or entry.

(c) Other proof. -- This rule does not prevent the proof of official records or of entry or lack of entry therein by any other method authorized by law.

Rule 44.1. Determination of foreign law.

A party who intends to raise an issue concerning the law of a foreign country shall give notice in his pleadings or other reasonable written notice. The Court, in determining foreign law, may consider any relevant material or source, including testimony, whether or not submitted by a party or admissible under Rule 43. The Court's determination shall be treated as a ruling on a question of law.

Rule 45. Subpoena.

(a) Form; issuance. --

(1) Every subpoena shall be issued by the Register in Chancery under the seal of the Court, and shall

(A) state the name of the Court;

(B) state the title of the action and its civil action number;

(C) command each person to whom it is directed to attend and give testimony or to produce and permit inspection and copying of designated books, documents or tangible things in the possession, custody or control of that person, or to permit inspection of premises, at a time and place therein specified; and

(D) set forth the text of subdivisions (c) and (d) of this rule.

The Register in Chancery shall issue a subpoena, or a subpoena for the production of documentary evidence, signed and sealed but otherwise in blank, to a party requesting it, who shall fill it in before service. A command to produce evidence or to permit inspection may be joined with a command to appear at trial or hearing or at deposition, or may be issued separately.

(2) Subpoenas for the attendance at a hearing, trial or deposition shall be issued by the Register of the county where the hearing, trial or deposition is to be held. If separate from a subpoena commanding the attendance of a person, a subpoena for production or inspection shall issue from the Register for the county in which the production or inspection is to be made. The attendance of witnesses at depositions and the production by them of designated documents or tangible things elsewhere than in the State of Delaware may be compelled by whatever means are available under the laws of the place where the examination is to be held.

(b) Service. -- A subpoena may be served by the sheriff, by the sheriff's deputy or by any other person who is not a party and is not less than 18 years of age. Service of a subpoena upon a person named therein shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to such person. Prior notice of any commanded production of documents and things or inspection of premises before trial shall be served on each party in the manner prescribed by Rule 5(b). Proof of service shall be made by filing with the Register of the county by which the subpoena is issued a statement of the date and manner of service and the names of the persons served, certified by the person who made the service.

(c) Protection of persons subject to subpoenas. --

(1) A party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and may impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2)(A) A person commanded to produce and permit inspection and copying of designated books, papers, documents or tangible things or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection and copying may, within 14 days after service of the subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to inspection or copying of any or all of the designated materials or of the premises. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect and copy the materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at any time for an order to compel production. Such an order to compel production shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection and copying commanded.

(3)(A) On timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it

- (i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance;
- (ii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter and no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iii) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) If a subpoena

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specific events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, the Court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the Court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) Duty in responding to subpoena. --

(1) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(2) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

(e) Contempt. -- Failure by any person without adequate excuse to obey a subpoena served upon the person may be deemed a contempt.

Rule 46. Exceptions unnecessary.

Formal exceptions to rulings or orders of the Court are unnecessary; but for all purposes for which an exception has heretofore been necessary it is sufficient that a party, at the time the ruling or order of the Court is made or sought, makes known to the Court the action which the party desires the Court to take or the party's objection to the action of the Court and the party's grounds therefor; and, if a party has no opportunity to object to a ruling or order at the time it is made, the absence of an objection does not thereafter prejudice the party.

VII. JUDGMENT.

Rule 54. Judgment; costs.

(a) Definition. -- "Judgment" as used in these Rules includes any order from which an appeal lies.

(b) Judgment upon multiple claims. -- When more than 1 claim for relief is presented in an action, whether as a claim, counterclaim, cross-claim, or third-party claim, the Court may direct the entry of a final judgment upon 1 or more but fewer than all of the claims or parties only upon an express determination that there is not just reason for delay and upon an express direction for the entry of judgment. In the absence of such determination and direction, any order or other form of decision, however designated, which adjudicates fewer than all the claims or the rights and liabilities of fewer than all the parties shall not terminate the action as to any of the claims, or parties and the order or other form of decision is subject to revision at any time before the entry of judgment adjudicating all the claims and the rights and liabilities of all the parties.

(c) Demand for judgment. -- A judgment by default shall not be different in kind from or exceed in amount that prayed for in the demand for judgment. Except as to a party against whom a judgment is entered by default, every final judgment shall grant the relief to which the party in whose favor it is rendered is entitled, even if the party has not demanded such relief in the party's pleadings.

(d) Costs. -- Except when express provision therefor is made either in a statute or in these Rules, costs shall be allowed as of course to the prevailing party unless the Court otherwise directs. The costs in any action shall not include any charge for the Court's copy of the transcript of the testimony or any depositions.

(e) Unnecessary costs. -- If at any time during the progress of an action it appears to the Court that the amount claimed is exorbitant so that the opposite party is put to unnecessary expense in giving bond, or if any party unnecessarily swells the record or otherwise causes unnecessary expense, the Court may, in its discretion, order such unnecessary expense to be taxed against the party causing the same, without regard to the outcome of the action.

(f) Appearance fees abolished. -- No appearance fees for attorneys will be permitted or taxed as costs in any action or cause in the Court of Chancery.

Rule 55. Default judgments.

(a) Omitted.

(b) Judgment. -- When a party against whom a judgment for affirmative relief is sought, has failed to appear, plead or otherwise defend as provided by these Rules, and that fact is made to appear, judgment by default may be entered as follows: The party entitled to a judgment by default shall apply to the Court therefor; but no judgment by default shall be entered against an infant or incompetent person unless represented in the action by a guardian, trustee or other representative. If the party against whom judgment by default is sought has appeared in the action, the party (or, if appearing by representative, the party's representative) shall be served with written notice of the application for judgment at least 3 days prior to the hearing on such application. If such party has not appeared written notice shall be served if the Court so directs. If, in order to enable the Court to enter judgment or to carry it into effect, it is necessary to take an account or to determine the amount of damages or to establish the truth of any averment by evidence or to make an investigation of any other matter, the Court may conduct such hearings or order such references as it deems necessary and proper.

(c) Setting aside default judgment. -- The Court may set aside a judgment by default in accordance with Rule 60(b).

(d) Plaintiffs, counterclaimants and cross-claimants. -- The provisions of this Rule apply whether the party entitled to the judgment by default is a plaintiff, a third-party plaintiff, or a party who has pleaded a cross-claim or counterclaim. In all cases a judgment by default is subject to the limitations of Rule 54(c).

Rule 56. Summary judgment.

(a) For claimant. -- A party seeking to recover upon a claim, counter claim, cross-claim or declaratory judgment may, at any time after the expiration of 20 days from the commencement of the action or after service of a motion for summary judgment by the adverse party move with or without supporting affidavits for a summary judgment in the party's favor upon all or any part thereof.

(b) For defending party. -- A party against whom a claim, counterclaim, cross-claim or declaratory judgment is asserted may, at any time, move with or without supporting affidavits for a summary judgment in the party's favor as to all or any part thereof.

(c) Motion and proceedings thereon. -- The motion shall be served at least 10 days before the time fixed for the hearing. The adverse party prior to the day of hearing may serve opposing affidavits. The judgment sought shall be rendered forthwith if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. A summary judgment, interlocutory in character, may be rendered on the issues of liability alone although there is a genuine issue as to the amount of damages, or some other matter.

(d) Case not fully adjudicated on motion. -- If on motion under this rule, judgment is not rendered upon the whole case or for all the relief asked and a trial is necessary, the Court at the hearing of the motion, by examining the pleadings and evidence before it and by interrogating counsel, shall if practicable ascertain what material facts exist without substantial controversy and what material facts are actually and in good faith controverted. It shall thereupon make an order specifying the facts that appear without substantial controversy, including the extent to which the amount of damages or other relief is not in controversy, and directing such further proceedings in the action as are just. Upon the trial of the action the facts so specified shall be deemed established, and the trial shall be conducted accordingly.

(e) Form of affidavits; further testimony. -- Supporting and opposing affidavits shall be made on personal knowledge, shall set forth such facts as would be admissible in evidence, and shall show affirmatively that the affiant is competent to testify to the matters stated therein. Sworn or certified copies of all papers or parts thereof referred to in an affidavit shall be attached thereto or served therewith. The Court may permit affidavits to be supplemented or opposed by depositions, answers to interrogatories, admissions on file, or further affidavits. When a motion for summary judgment is made and supported as provided in this rule, an adverse party may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials of the adverse party's pleading, but the adverse party's response, by affidavits or as otherwise provided in this rule, must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial. If the adverse party does not so respond, summary judgment, if appropriate, shall be entered against the adverse party.

(f) When affidavits are unavailable. -- Should it appear from the affidavits of a party opposing the motion that the party cannot for reasons stated present by affidavit facts essential to justify the party's opposition, the Court may refuse the application for judgment or may order a continuance to permit affidavits to be obtained or depositions to be taken or discovery to be had or may make such other order as is just.

(g) Affidavit made in bad faith. -- Should it appear to the satisfaction of the Court at any time that any of the affidavits presented pursuant to this rule are presented in bad faith or solely for the purpose of delay, the Court shall forthwith order the party employing them to pay to the other party the amount of the reasonable expenses which the filing of the affidavits caused the other party to incur, including reasonable attorney's fees, and any offending party or attorney may be adjudged guilty of contempt.

Rule 57. Declaratory judgments.

The procedure for obtaining a declaratory judgment pursuant to the statute of this State shall be in accordance with these Rules. The existence of another adequate remedy does not preclude a judgment for declaratory relief in cases where it is appropriate. The Court may order a speedy hearing of an action for a declaratory judgment.

Rule 58. Entry of judgment.

The order of the Court shall constitute the judgment of the Court.

Rule 59. New trials.

(a) Grounds. -- A new trial may be granted to all or any of the parties, and on all or part of the issues for any of the reasons for which rehearings have heretofore been granted in suits in equity. The Court may open the judgment if one has been entered, take additional testimony, amend or make new factual findings and legal conclusions, and direct the entry of a new judgment. A new trial will not be granted after the filing of an appeal.

(b) Time for motion. -- A motion for a new trial shall be served not later than 10 days after the entry of the judgment.

(c) Time for serving affidavits. -- When a motion for new trial is based upon affidavits they shall be served with the motion. The opposing party has 10 days after such service within which to serve opposing affidavits, which period may be extended for an additional period not exceeding 20 days either by the Court for good cause shown or by the parties by written stipulation. The Court may permit reply affidavits.

(d) On initiative of Court. -- Not later than 10 days after entry of judgment the Court of its own initiative may order a new trial for any reason for which it might have granted a new trial on motion of a party. After giving the parties notice and an opportunity to be heard on the matter, the Court may grant a motion for a new trial, timely served, for a reason not stated in the motion. In either case, the Court shall specify in the order the grounds therefor.

(e) Motion to alter or amend a judgment. -- A motion to alter or amend the judgment shall be served not later than 10 days after entry of the judgment.

(f) Rearguments. -- A motion for reargument setting forth briefly and distinctly the grounds therefor may be served and filed within 5 days after the filing of the Court's opinion or the receipt of the Court's decision. A copy of the motion shall also be delivered by the moving party to the Judge to whom the matter has been assigned. Within 5 days after service of the motion any opposing party may serve and file a short answer to each ground asserted in the motion and shall deliver a copy thereof to the Judge assigned.

Rule 60. Relief from judgment or order.

(a) Clerical mistakes. -- Clerical mistakes in judgments, order or other parts of the record and errors therein arising from oversight or omission may be corrected by the Court at any time of its own initiative or on the motion of any party and after such notice, if any, as the Court orders.

(b) Mistake; inadvertence; excusable neglect; newly discovered evidence; fraud, etc. -- On motion and upon such terms as are just, the Court may relieve a party or a party's legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons: (1) Mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect; (2) newly discovered evidence; (3) fraud (whether heretofore denominated intrinsic or extrinsic), misrepresentation or other misconduct of an adverse party; (4) the judgment is void; (5) the judgment has been satisfied, released, or discharged, or a prior judgment upon which it is based has been reversed or otherwise vacated, or it is no longer equitable that the judgment should have prospective application; or (6) any other reason justifying relief from the operation of the judgment. A motion under this subdivision does not affect the finality of a judgment or suspend its operation. This Rule does not limit the power of a Court to entertain an independent action to relieve a party from a judgment, order or proceeding, or to grant any relief provided by statute, or to set aside a judgment for fraud upon the Court. The procedure for obtaining relief from judgments shall be by motion as prescribed in these Rules or by an independent action.

Rule 61. Harmless error.

No error in either the admission or the exclusion of evidence and no error or defect in any ruling or order or in anything done or omitted by the Court or by any of the parties is ground for granting a new trial, or for vacating, modifying, or otherwise disturbing a judgment or order, unless refusal to take such action appears to the Court inconsistent with substantial justice. The Court at every stage of the proceeding must disregard any error or defect in the proceeding which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties.

Rule 62. Stays by trial court in cases of appeal and motion for new trial.

(a) Omitted.

(b) Stay on motion for new trial or to amend judgment. -- In its discretion and on such conditions for the security of the adverse party as are proper, the Court may stay the execution of or any proceedings to enforce a judgment pending the disposition of a motion for a new trial or to alter or amend a judgment made pursuant to Rule 59, or of a motion for relief from a judgment or order made pursuant to Rule 60.

(c) Injunction pending appeal. -- When an appeal is taken from an interlocutory or final judgment granting, dissolving, or denying an injunction, the Court in its discretion may suspend, modify, restore, or grant an injunction during the pendency of the appeal upon such terms as to bond or otherwise as it considers proper for the security of the rights of the adverse party.

(d) Supersedeas or stay on appeal. -- Stays pending appeal and stay and cost bonds shall be governed by article IV, { 24 of the Constitution of the State of Delaware and by the Rules of the Supreme Court.

(e) to (g) Omitted.

(h) Stay of judgment as to multiple claims or multiple parties. -- When a Court has ordered a final judgment under the conditions stated in Rule 54(b), the Court may stay enforcement of that judgment until the entering of a subsequent judgment or judgments and may prescribe such conditions as are necessary to secure the benefit thereof to the party in whose favor the judgment is entered.

Rule 63. Inability of a judge to proceed.

If a trial or hearing has been commenced and the judge is unable to proceed, any other judge may proceed with it upon certifying familiarity with the record and determining that the proceedings in the case may be completed without prejudice to the parties. The successor shall at the request of a party recall any witness whose testimony is material and disputed and who is available to testify again without undue burden. the successor judge may also recall any other witness.

VIII. PROVISIONAL AND FINAL REMEDIES AND SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS.

Rule 64. Seizure of persons or property.

At the commencement of and during the course of an action, all remedies providing for seizure of person or property for the purpose of compelling appearance or securing satisfaction of a judgment ultimately to be entered in the action are available under the circumstances and in the manner provided by statute, or existing in this Court at the date of the adoption of these Rules.

Rule 65. Injunctions.

(a) Preliminary injunction. --

(1) Notice. -- No preliminary injunction shall be issued without notice to the adverse party, and without a prayer therefor appearing in a verified complaint, or a motion therefor filed and supported by affidavit.

(2) Consolidation of hearing with trial on merits. -- Before or after the commencement of the hearing of an application for a preliminary injunction, the Court may order the trial of the action on the merits to be advanced and consolidated with the hearing of the application. Even when this consolidation is not ordered, any evidence received upon an application for a preliminary injunction which would be admissible upon the trial on the merits becomes part of the record on the trial and need not be repeated upon the trial.

(b) Temporary restraining order; notice; hearing; duration. -- A temporary restraining order may be granted without written or oral notice to the adverse party or that party's attorney only if (1) it clearly appears from specific facts shown by affidavit or by the verified complaint that immediate and irreparable injury, loss or damage will result to the applicant before the adverse party or that party's attorney can be heard in opposition, and (2) the applicant's attorney certifies to the Court in writing the efforts, if any, which have been made to give the notice and the reasons supporting the claim that notice should not be required. Every temporary restraining order granted without notice shall be indorsed with the date and hour of issuance; shall be filed forthwith in the office of the Register in Chancery and entered of record; shall define the injury and state why it is irreparable and why the order was granted without notice; and shall expire by its terms within such time after entry, not to exceed 10 days, as the Court fixes, unless within the time so fixed the order, for good cause shown, is extended for a like period or unless the party against whom the order is directed consents that it may be extended for a longer period. The reasons for the extension shall be entered of record. In case a temporary restraining order is granted without notice, the motion for a preliminary injunction shall be set down for hearing at the earliest possible time and takes precedence of all matters except older matters of the same character; and when the motion comes on for hearing the party who obtained the temporary restraining order shall proceed with the application for a preliminary injunction and, if that party does not do so, the Court shall dissolve the temporary restraining order. On 2 days' notice to the party who obtained the temporary restraining order without notice or on such shorter notice to that party as the Court may prescribe, the adverse party may appear and move its dissolution or modification and in that event the Court shall proceed to hear and determine such motion as expeditiously as the ends of justice require.

(c) Security. -- No restraining order or preliminary injunction shall issue except upon the giving of security by the applicant, in such sum as the Court deems proper, for the payment of such costs and damages as may be incurred or suffered by any party who is found to have been wrongfully enjoined or restrained. Any security given as a condition to the issuance of a restraining order shall also constitute security for any preliminary injunction subsequently issued and requiring security.

(d) Form and scope of injunction or restraining order. -- Every order granting an injunction and every restraining order shall be specific in its terms; shall describe in reasonable detail, and not by reference to the complaint or other document unless such document is served with the injunction or restraining order, the act or acts to be restrained; and shall be binding only upon the parties to the action, their officers, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys, and upon those persons in active concert or participation with them who receive actual notice of the order by personal service or otherwise.

(e) Omitted.

Rule 65.1. Security: proceedings against sureties.

Whenever these Rules require or permit the giving of security by a party, and security is given in the form of a bond or stipulation or other undertaking with one or more sureties, each such surety submits to the jurisdiction of the Court and irrevocably appoints the Register in Chancery as the surety's agent upon whom any papers affecting the surety's liability on the bond or undertaking may be served. The surety's liability may be enforced on motion without the necessity of an independent action. The motion and such notice of the motion as the Court prescribes may be served on the Register in Chancery, who shall forthwith mail copies to the sureties if their addresses are known.

Rule 66. Receivers.

See Rules 148-168.

Rule 68. Offer of judgment.

Omitted.

Rule 69. Execution writ for payment of money.

(a) In general. -- If a final order be for the payment of money, it may contain, in addition to other methods of enforcement of the order, an order for the issuance of writs of execution substantially in the form and with the same effect as those used in the Superior Court. Such writs shall be directed to and executed by the sheriff of the county as other like writs are executed and shall be returned to the Court of Chancery as directed in the order thereof.

(b) Proceedings supplementary to judgment or execution. -- In aid of the judgment or execution, the judgment creditor or the judgment creditor's successor in interest when that interest appears of record, may examine any person, including the person against whom a judgment has been entered, in the manner provided in these Rules for taking depositions.

Rule 70. Judgment for specific acts; vesting title; contempt.

(a) Performance by substitute and other methods of procuring compliance. deliver deeds or other documents or to perform any other specific act and the party fails to comply within the time specified, the Court may direct the act to be done at the cost of the disobedient party by some other person appointed by the Court and the act when so done has like effect as if done by the party. On application of the party entitled to performance, the Register shall issue a writ of attachment or sequestration against the property of the disobedient party to compel obedience to the judgment. The Court may also in proper cases adjudge the party in contempt. If real or personal property is within the jurisdiction of the Court, the Court in lieu of directing a conveyance thereof may enter a judgment divesting the title of any party and vesting it in others and such judgment has the effect of a conveyance executed in due form of law. When any order or judgment is for the delivery of possession, the party in whose favor it is entered is entitled to a writ of execution or assistance upon application to the Register in Chancery. The provisions of this paragraph shall not be construed to replace any statutory authority granted this Court to compel performance by a substitute.

(b) Contempt and other remedies for disobedience of Court order. -- For failure to obey a restraining or injunctive order, or to obey or to perform any order, an attachment may be ordered by the Court upon the filing in the cause of an affidavit showing service on the defendant, or that the defendant has knowledge of the order and setting forth the facts constituting the disobedience. At the hearing of the attachment, the examination of the defendant and also of witnesses shall be oral before the Court, unless it be otherwise ordered by the Court.

In other proceedings taken in the name of the State to punish contempt, the attachment may be ordered upon the filing of an affidavit setting forth the facts constituting the contempt and thereupon the proceedings shall be as set forth in the preceding paragraph of this rule.

Rule 71. Process in behalf of and against persons not parties.

When an order is made in favor of a person who is not a party to the action, that person may enforce obedience to the order by the same process as if that person were a party, and, when obedience to an order may be lawfully enforced against a person who is not a party, that person is liable to the same process for enforcing obedience to the order as if that person were a party.

Rule 71A. Condemnation of property.

Omitted.

IX. APPEALS.

Rule 72. Appeals, certifications and mandates.

(b) Procedure of certification. -- A party filing a petition requesting this Court to certify a question to the Supreme Court shall set forth therein the facts and issues at such length and with sufficient clarity to enable this Court to make a finding necessary to warrant a certification under the terms and conditions of the Rule of the Supreme Court governing certification. There shall be attached to such petition a proposed form of certification. In the event the Court enters an order of certification the petitioner shall file with the Register the copies necessary to conform to the requirements of the Supreme Court rule.

(c) Supreme Court mandate; action in this Court thereon. -- Upon receipt of a mandate from the Supreme Court, the Register shall immediately mail notice thereof to the Delaware attorneys involved or if not represented by Delaware attorneys to the parties. The notice shall direct the attorneys or the parties to proceed in accordance with this Rule. In any case where the judgment of this Court shall have been reversed or modified or in any case where further proceedings are necessary an appropriate order shall be prepared by counsel and submitted to the Court.

(f) Any individual or entity serving as a fee-for-service guardian appointed by this Court shall maintain a secured bond equal in value to the aggregate liquid assets of the wards of that guardian, and no individual or entity shall be appointed unless proof of adequate bonding is provided to the Register in Chancery.

Rule 132. Fiduciary commissions.

As used in this rule the terms "trustee" or "trustees" mean testamentary trustees, trustees for mentally ill persons, trustees by appointment of the Court, and other trustees, guardians and fiduciaries whose duties call for the care and management of property (referred to herein as the "trust estate" or the "trust"). This rule shall not apply to guardianship over the property of minors.

As used in this rule the term "commission period" means a period covering 1 month, 3 months, 6 months or a year.

Subject to the provisions of any valid agreement determining compensation, and subject in any case to increase or decrease by the Court for cause appearing sufficient to the Court a trustee shall be entitled to the following commissions for services:

(a) Income commissions. -- A charge on gross income during each trust accounting year collected by the trustee calculated at the following rates:

- 6% on the first $20,000 of income;
- 3.5% on the next $10,000 of income;
- 3% on the next $270,000 of income;
- 2% on all income over $300,000.

(b) Periodic principal commissions. -- A charge on the principal or corpus of the trust estate, computable and payable at the times and in the manner hereinafter set forth at the following annual rates:

5/10 of 1% on the first $100,000 of principal;

3/10 of 1% on the next $100,000 of principal;

2/10 of 1% on the next $500,000 of principal;

1/10 of 1% on all principal over $700,000.

The principal commissions shall be computed for each commission period on the basis of the fair value of the trust estate, which shall be determined either (1) for any commission period less than annually by an appraisal made by the trustee and certified to the Court as of the last business day of the commission period selected; or (2) by the value theretofore determined as a part of a periodic review of trusts by the trustee, such review to be of a date not more than 12 months prior to the date of making such annual charge. Periodic reviews to be eligible for use for valuation purposes under clause (2) shall be made approximately at 12-month intervals and the date of such reviews shall not vary more than 60 days from 1 year to the next until the termination of the trust, as of which date a final valuation shall be made.

Principal received or withdrawn during any commission period shall be included in the total valuation of the trust estate, but, as to commission periods in excess of 3 months, its value shall be adjusted proportionately for each 3-month period in such commission period that preceded the date of its receipt or followed the date of its withdrawal.

A trustee shall, with respect to any particular trust, select 1 of the commission periods permitted by these Rules and shall adhere to the period selected in computing successive periodic principal commissions for that trust; provided that a trustee may thereafter change such commission period upon notice to the beneficiaries of the trust who are then entitled to receive distributions of income or principal, and to any cotrustees or trust advisors for the trust involved. In any periodic accounting which a trustee is required to file under Rule 114, such fair value so computed shall be certified to the Court in the form of written statements by the trustee, 1 for each commission period for which principal commissions are claimed. Each such certification shall contain a complete list of assets of the principal of the trust estate, the amount of the fair value of each asset, a statement showing which of the methods above referred to has been adopted as a basis of the valuation and the date of such valuation.

The charge and collection of principal commissions for 1 or more commission periods may at any time from time to time be deferred; in such case, a notation shall be entered on the account submitted to the Court showing the accumulated amount of such principal commissions as computed but not actually charged.

A trustee may not compute or charge periodic principal commissions in which event the trustee shall, at the time of distribution or of termination of the trust or of transfer to a successor trustee, be allowed principal commissions computed under the provisions of paragraph (e) of this rule, or in lieu thereof the trustee may at such time or times apply to the Court for appropriate commissions on principal, which the Court in its discretion may allow and which need not be limited to the amounts of principal commissions at termination set forth by paragraph (e) of this rule.

Notwithstanding an earlier election not to compute or charge periodic principal commissions, a trustee may elect prospectively to compute, charge and collect such commissions at any time during the administration of the trust estate.

Periodic principal commissions may be collected less frequently than the commission period selected for their computation and charge.

(c) Additional charges in special cases. -- When the trust includes 1 or more mortgages, an additional commission shall be allowed at the annual rate of 1/4 of 1% of the total face value of all mortgages held in the trust as of the times of the valuation of the trust assets required by paragraph (b) of this rule or, if the trustee is not charging periodic principal commissions, of the total face value of such mortgages held in the trust on the last business day of each fiscal year of the trust.

When the trust includes real estate, the income commission specified in paragraph (a) of this rule shall apply to gross rents collected by an outside agent and paid to the trustee. If such rents are collected directly by the trustee, the trustee shall be allowed a commission of 8% of gross rentals received.

In the discretion of the Court, additional and special commissions may be allowed for unusual and extraordinary services.

(d) Decrease of commissions in certain cases. --

(1) Control in person other than trustee. -- If the direction and control of investments in any trust, the corpus of which exceeds $300,000 in value, rest solely with a person other than the trustee, the principal commissions set forth in paragraph (b) of this rule shall be reduced by 15 percent so long as such condition exists.

(2) Large blocks of securities. -- In a trust with limited diversification and a fair value of $1,000,000 or more, three fourths or more of the fair value of which is invested in not more than 2 blocks of stocks and/or bonds, the income commission set forth in paragraph (a) of this rule shall be reduced by 25 percent, so long as such condition exists.

(e) Principal commissions upon distribution or transfer. -- Upon partial or complete distribution of any trust or upon transfer of a successor trustee, the aggregate principal commissions allowable shall be calculated at the following rates:

- 5% of principal on the first $50,000;
- 3.6% of principal on the next $50,000;
- 2.3% of principal on the next $900,000;
- 1% of principal on all over $1,000,000.

Provided, however, that if at the time of distribution or transfer the trust shall have been administered by the trustee for a period less than 10 years, such principal commissions shall be reduced to the following percentages of the rates hereinabove specified:

- 30% if termination occurs within 3 years;
- 40% if termination occurs after 3 and before 4 years;
- 50% if termination occurs after 4 and before 5 years;
- 60% if termination occurs after 5 and before 6 years;
- 70% if termination occurs after 6 and before 7 years;
- 80% if termination occurs after 7 and before 8 years;
- 90% if termination occurs after 8 and before 9 years;
- 100% if termination occurs after 9 years.

There shall be deducted from such principal commissions the sum of all periodic principal commissions theretofore charged and collected by the trustee with respect to the trust estate or, in the case of a partial distribution, with respect to the distributable portion of the trust estate. If such sum exceeds the aggregate principal commission allowable under this paragraph, the trustee shall not be obligated to repay such excess but shall not ordinarily be allowed any additional principal commission upon termination of the trust.

Such aggregate principal commission shall be computed on the fair value of the trust estate at the time of partial or complete distribution or of transfer to a successor trustee. Such fair value shall be determined by an appraisal made by the trustee as of the date of partial or complete distribution or transfer. In any accounting which a trustee is required to file, such fair value so determined shall be certified to the Court in the form of written statements by the trustee filed with and as a part of the final account of the trustee, or in the case of partial distribution or transfer, as a part of the next account of the trustee required under these rules. Each such certification shall contain a complete list of the assets of the principal of the trust estate, the amount of the fair value of each asset, the date of such valuation and a statement of the amounts previously allowed the trustee as periodic principle commissions under this rule. The time or date of partial or complete distribution or transfer shall mean the date of the event that caused the partial or complete termination or transfer of the trust: e.g., the date a beneficiary dies, the date a beneficiary comes of age, or the date on which a written instrument is delivered to the trustee or a Court order is entered authorizing or directing the transfer to a successor trustee.

(f) Apportionment of commissions. -- Except to the extent that the governing instrument or a Court order shall otherwise provide, principal commissions shall be paid out of principal and income commissions shall be paid out of income. Additional commissions on mortgages and real estate shall be charged to income.

(g) Perpetual trusts. -- If a trust is or becomes perpetual (e.g., a charitable trust), the trustee shall be entitled to the total commissions set forth under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this rule, which shall be charged entirely against income.

(h) Co-trustees. -- The compensation to be allowed to each of 2 or more trustees shall be as the Court in its discretion may determine, considering the amount and character of the trust property, the extent of the risk and responsibility of each trustee, the character of the services rendered by each trustee, the degree of difficulty in administering the trust, the skill and success of the administration, and any other relevant and material circumstances. The compensation allowed each trustee, upon petition of any of them, shall be computed in a manner consistent with the above schedule, but the amounts allowed in the aggregate may exceed the amounts allowed a single trustee at the rates set forth above for normal services.

(i) Certain payments income for commission purposes. -- For the purpose of determining commissions upon income allowable under this rule, income shall be deemed to include (without being limited to) periodic payments of insurance, annuities, pensions, social security and railroad retirement board benefits and the like, whether received from public, private or governmental sources; provided that payments shall have been received at substantially regular intervals over a period of at least 12 months during the continuance of the trust and provided further that the Court may in its discretion, when the circumstances are such that the allowance of such commissions upon such payments would work an undue hardship, enter an order modifying the extent to which the provisions of this paragraph shall be applicable to the allowance of commissions on such payments.

(j) Trustee's fee for review of accountings of an executor or an administrator other than trustee. -- When a trustee receives property from an executor or administrator other than itself, a fee equal to the reasonable costs actually incurred by the trustee shall be charged against principal and allowed to the trustee as compensation for review of the actions, administration and accounting of the executor or administrator. In no event, however, shall this fee exceed the sum of $1,000 without special allowance of the Court.

(k) Successor trustee's fees for review of accountings of former trustee. -- When a successor trustee receives property from a former trustee, a fee equal to the reasonable costs actually incurred by the successor trustee shall be charged against principal and allowed to the successor trustee as compensation for review of the actions, administration and accounting of the former trustee. In no event, however, shall this fee exceed the sum of $1,000 without special allowance of the Court.

(1) Minimum commissions. -- A trustee shall be entitled to a minimum commission of $400 for services in any 1 accounting year to be charged against income to the extent collectible as computed under paragraph (a) of this rule and the balance, if any, to be charged against principal.

Rule 133. Appointment and duties of successor guardian or trustee.

When a new guardian of the property or trustee is appointed by the Court, then as soon as the new guardian of the property or trustee shall have given any bond required by the Court, the preceding guardian of the property or trustee, or the representative of a deceased guardian of the property or trustee, shall pay over, transfer and deliver to the new guardian of the property or trustee, and the new guardian of the property or trustee shall receive and take possession of, all cash, investments, securities, property and effects constituting the guardianship or trust. Unless otherwise provided by the terms of the governing instrument or by order of the Court, whenever the new guardian of the property or trustee has actual knowledge of a breach of fiduciary duty by its predecessor that would cause a reasonable person to inquire, the new guardian of the property or trustee shall examine the accounts and records of its predecessor, and inquire into the acts and omissions of its predecessor, and report to the Court any maladministration of its predecessor. This provision shall apply in the case of the resignation, removal or death of a guardian of the property or trustee.

Rule 134. Foreign trusts.

When a trust is created in a foreign jurisdiction and there is in this State real or personal property subject to the trust so created, the trustee (all references to "trustee" include all acting trustees and their successors) of such property shall have the same rights and powers in this State respecting such property as it may have respecting a similar kind of property in the state where the trust was created, upon (i) the filing and recording in the office of the Register in Chancery in the county in which such property is located a certified copy of the instrument creating the trust, and (ii) subject to the approval of the Court, such other certificates as shall show that the trustee is duly appointed and qualified, that it is entitled by the instrument creating the trust, or by the order or decree of some court or officer of competent jurisdiction, to exercise rights and powers over such property and that the trustee has given such security in such form and amount as may be required in the relevant foreign jurisdiction.

Rule 134.1. Business trusts.

The provision of Part XIII of these Rules dealing with trusts and trustees shall not apply to a business trust.

XIV. MASTERS.

Rule 135. Appointment; removal.

The Court shall have authority in any cause pending in the Court of Chancery of this State to appoint a Master in Chancery pro hac vice in such particular cause.

The appointment of a Master in Chancery shall be complete and effective when an order for the same is signed by the Court.

Any Master may be removed at the pleasure of the Court.

Rule 136. Duties and powers.

The Master shall regulate all the proceedings in every hearing before the Master upon every order of reference. The Master shall have full authority to administer all oaths in the discharge of the Master's official duties; to examine the parties and witnesses in the cause upon oath touching all matters contained in the order of reference; to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses; to require the production of all books, papers, writings, vouchers and other documents applicable thereto; to cause such evidence to be taken down in writing; to order the examination of other witnesses to be taken under a commission to be issued upon the Master's certificate from the office of the Register in Chancery, or by deposition; to certify to testimony taken; to direct the mode in which the matters requiring evidence shall be proved before the Master; to grant adjournments and extensions of time; and generally to do all other acts, and direct all other inquiries and proceedings in the matters before the Master, which may be deemed necessary and proper, subject at all times to the revision and control of the Court.

Rule 137. Witnesses; documents.

Witnesses may be summoned to appear before the Master by subpoena in the usual form, which shall be issued by the Register in Chancery requiring the attendance of the witnesses at the time and place specified. The Master may also compel the production by witnesses, including parties to the cause, of books, papers and documents to be used as evidence before the Master by subpoena issued as in this rule provided. If any witness shall disobey such subpoena, it shall be deemed a contempt of the Court, which being certified to said Register's office by the Master, an attachment shall thereupon be issued returnable before the Court.

Witnesses shall be allowed for attendance the same compensation as for attendance in court.

Rule 138. Proceedings to be transcribed.

All proceedings before the Master shall be transcribed by a stenographer selected by the Master except in proceedings not involving the submission of evidence if agreed to by the parties and approved by the Master. The Master shall fix the compensation of such stenographer and apportion the cost of such transcription among the parties.

Rule 139. Objections to testimony; hearing thereon.

The Master shall have full power to pass upon all questions of competency of witnesses and admissibility of testimony, and shall note the ruling upon each objection. When the Master has ruled that a witness or party shall answer a given question it shall be the duty of such witness or party to answer in the same manner as if such witness or party had been so directed by the Court; and in case the Master shall hold that any question is irrelevant or immaterial, the same shall not be answered.

When an objection is taken and overruled, it is unnecessary for the objecting party to except thereto. The party objecting must state specifically the grounds of such objection. After the testimony and evidence before the Master is closed, and before the Master makes a report thereon, any party who has made an objection during the proceedings before the Master which has been overruled may bring such objections before the Court, and if the Court, shall sustain the rulings of the Master, the Master shall immediately proceed to make a report upon the testimony and evidence that was submitted. The same procedure shall apply in favor of a party aggrieved by the refusal of the Master to admit evidence. If any of the objections to the rulings of the Master shall be sustained, the Master shall proceed to take such further testimony as the Court may direct, and shall disregard in making up the report such testimony as the Court may rule to be irrelevant or immaterial.

Rule 140. Persons who may be examined; burden of proof on exceptions to claim.

The Master shall be at liberty to examine any party, or any creditor, or other person making claims before the Master either upon written interrogatories, or orally, or in both modes, as the nature of the case may appear to the Master to require, and for this purpose may by subpoena compel the attendance of such party, creditor or other person.

When exceptions are taken to claims filed by claimants to a fund, the burden of proof shall be on the claimant to establish the claim as filed, and the claimant will not be permitted to prove any items not embraced within such filed claim, except by order of the Master for good cause shown.

Rule 141. Time for taking testimony.

Where the order of reference specifies the time to begin taking testimony before the Master, and also the time for closing proofs, the Master shall have no power to extend the time beyond the day named in the order, but when a matter is referred to a Master to examine and report upon, and the order of reference does not specify any time to begin taking testimony or for closing proofs, the Master shall, as soon as practicable, assign a time and place to hear the parties, give reasonable notice to all persons interested, and proceed with all reasonable diligence in every such reference. Any party in interest shall be at liberty to apply to the Court for an order that the Master speed the proceedings and certify to the Court the reasons for any delay.

Rule 142. Limiting time for taking testimony.

The Master may fix a day within which any party shall close its proofs, which time the Master may for good cause shown extend for such reasonable time as justice may require; and in case the parties shall not close their proofs within the time limited by the Master, the Master shall proceed with the hearings and report upon the testimony and evidence that may have been submitted without waiting for further evidence or testimony from the party so failing to close its proofs within the time limited.

Rule 143

This Rule is deleted as a separate Rule.

Rule 144. Report; action by Court.

(a) As soon as the Master is ready to file a report, the Master shall, before filing it, submit a draft thereof to each party for its inspection. Any party may take exception to the draft report by filing a notice of exception with the Office of the Register in Chancery or Wills, as appropriate, within 7 days of the date of the draft report. Any party failing to file a notice of exception within 7 days of the date of the draft report shall be deemed to have waived the right to review of the report, except insofar as the report is modified in response to the exceptions of other parties. Upon the filing of a notice of exception, the Master shall set a schedule for submission of memoranda on the exceptions. Such exceptions shall be first heard by the Master who shall be at liberty to amend the draft report. The draft report may be provided to the parties in writing or may be entered into the record from the bench. In the latter case, any party taking exception to the draft report shall order a transcript of the report from the record, which shall serve as the text of the report for purposes of review by the Master and the Court. The report shall contain findings of fact and conclusions of law sufficient to support the decision of the Master and to allow meaningful review by the Court.

The only exceptions which may be filed to the final report are those which were filed to the draft report and disallowed, plus exceptions to any changes from the draft report made in the final report.

The Master's final report shall be filed in the Office of the Register in Chancery or Wills, as appropriate, who shall give notice thereof to the parties interested. Any party wishing to take exception to the final report shall file a notice of exception with the Register within 7 days of receiving notice that the final report has been filed. Any party not filing a notice of exception to the final report within 7 days shall be deemed to have waived the right to review of the final report. After filing a notice of exception, a party shall file its opening brief in support of its exceptions with the appropriate Register within 20 days, in conformity with Rule 171. A party who opposes the exceptions shall file an answer to the exceptions within 20 days of the exceptant's opening brief and the exceptant shall file a reply within 15 days of the answering brief. Answers and replies shall be filed as briefs in conformity with Rule 171.

In all instances in which the Master's report is based upon testimony taken on the record before the Master, proceedings on any exception to the final report shall be on that record, unless for good cause shown the Court elects to take additional testimony. If no exceptions are filed to the final report, the Court may in its discretion thereafter confirm such report on its own motion or set the matter down for further proceedings. If exceptions to the final report are filed, the Court may make such order as it deems appropriate. In either instance, upon the confirmation of a final report, the Court shall make such order thereon as it deems appropriate.

In any case where no party takes exception within the time periods allowed above to the draft report or to the final report, the report shall be deemed final and the master shall submit the report to the presiding Chancellor or Vice Chancellor for review and for entry of the report as an order of the Court, as appropriate.

The Court will review the legal and factual findings in the final report de novo.

(b) Transcript. --

(1) In all cases in which a party files exceptions to the Master's draft report, the party shall, with the notice of exception, serve and file a designation and request for the preparation of a transcript of those portions of the proceedings it deems necessary for inclusion in the record. A copy of the designation and request shall also be delivered to the court reporter. Any other party shall, within 7 days thereafter, serve and file a designation and request a transcript of any additional portions of the proceedings that it deems necessary. Any party who fails to request a transcript under this subsection as to any portion of the proceedings waives any right to rely upon that portion of the proceedings in support of that party's arguments favoring or opposing an exception to the report. A transcript of the portions of the proceedings relied upon by the parties in support of their arguments favoring or opposing an exception to the draft or final report shall be submitted to the Master or the Court, as the case may be, in appendices to the parties' briefs.

(2) In any case where the Master determines, in his or her discretion, that a transcript of all or part of the proceedings is necessary in order to prepare the draft or final report, the Master shall require the parties to order such transcript. The Master may, at any stage of the proceedings, require the parties to file briefs citing to the transcript, and the parties' appendices shall include the portions of the transcript upon which the parties rely.

(c) Voluntary submission to finality of Master's report. -- Subject to the approval and discretion of the Court, the parties to any case or proceeding may voluntarily agree to submit that case or proceeding or any claim, issue or matter arising in that case or proceeding to a Master for a final decision or resolution that shall not be subject to any further judicial review or appeal. Any such agreement must be embodied in a stipulation specifying the case, proceeding or matter to be so submitted to a Master, and the claims or issues to be resolved by a Master. The stipulation shall also expressly waive any right of any party to the case or proceeding to seek further judicial review of the decision of a Master, and contain an express representation that each party has consulted with his or her counsel and has expressly agreed to the submission of the case, proceeding or matter to a Master for a final decision or resolution which shall not be reviewable. The stipulation shall be executed by counsel for all parties to the case or proceeding approved and ordered by the Court, and filed with the Register in Chancery or the Register of Wills, as appropriate. In cases, proceedings or matters so submitted to a Master, Rules 136 through 147 will be applicable except that exceptions to the final report shall not be permitted. After the issuance of the Master's final report, the Court shall enter a judgment or order implementing that final report, which shall not be subject to any further judicial review or appeal. Rule 145. Inspection of documents.

Where, by any decree or order of the Court, or subpoena issued by the Register in Chancery, books, papers, or writings are directed to be produced before the Master for the purpose of such decree or order, it shall be in the discretion of the Master to determine what books, papers or writings are to be produced, and when and for how long they are to be left in the Master's office; and in case the Master shall not deem it necessary that such books, papers or writings should be left or deposited in the Master's office, then the Master may give directions for the inspection thereof by the parties requiring the same at such time and in such place and manner as the Master shall deem expedient.

Rule 146. Receivership claims filed with register.

When a Master is appointed to pass upon the validity, lawful order and priority of claims of creditors in a receivership cause, such claims shall not be filed with the Master, but with the Register.

Rule 147. Accounts; filing of exceptions and examining parties.

When an account is referred to a Master all exceptions thereto must be filed with the Master and heard by the Master, and the Master or any party interested in the account shall have power to examine the accountant touching the account and all matters therein contained, and touching the vouchers and other papers submitted therewith.

XV. RECEIVERSHIPS; RECEIVERS AND TRUSTEES FOR CORPORATIONS.

Rule 148. Applicable rules.

Rules 149 to 168 shall apply to all cases in which receivers are appointed for any person, partnership, association or corporation, existing or dissolved, and in all cases in which trustees are appointed for a dissolved corporation, whether such receivers or trustees are appointed pursuant to a statute of the State of Delaware or pursuant to the inherent authority of the Court; provided, however, that the Court may relieve the receivers or trustees from complying with all or any of the duties and procedures set forth in Rules 149 through 168 and may impose such other duties or prescribe such other procedures as the Court may deem appropriate.

Rule 149. Appointment on verified complaint; receiver pendente lite.

Every complaint filed for the appointment of a receiver for a corporation shall be verified. A receiver pendente lite may be appointed by the Court if cause therefor be shown by the complaint, and it be prayed for therein; and whether the receiver is appointed or not, a rule may be ordered by the Court requiring the defendant to show cause why the receiver pendente lite should not be continued, or such a receiver appointed, as the case may be.

Upon the hearing of the rule, if an answer admitting the allegations of the bill be not then filed, a receiver pendente lite may be appointed or the receiver theretofore appointed may be continued until final order, or until the further order of the Court, upon the giving of a bond by the receiver to the State of Delaware within the time fixed in the order of appointment, with surety to be approved by the Court.

Rule 150. Nonresident.

No person shall be appointed sole receiver who does not at the time of appointment reside in the State of Delaware.

Rule 151. Duties after appointment.

Every receiver unless otherwise ordered by the Court shall, within 30 days from the time of the receiver's appointment and qualification, file with the Register in Chancery:

(1) An inventory of all the estate, property and effects of the company and an appraisalment thereof to be made by appraisers to be appointed by the Court.

(2) A list of the debtors and creditors of the company, showing all the debts due to and from the company, with the last-known post-office address or place of business of each debtor and creditor.

(3) A list of the stockholders of the company with the last-known post-office address or place of business.

It shall be the duty of the receiver to include in the receiver's first report a statement whether the capital stock outstanding has been fully paid in, and if not, the names and post-office addresses of the holders of shares whose stock has not been fully paid for, and the number of shares held by them respectively, and the sums of money due from each of them on that account.

If, after filing the inventory above mentioned, a receiver shall acquire additional property of the company, not described in the inventory, the receiver shall forthwith file a supplemental inventory describing such property, and apply to the Court for the appointment of appraisers to appraise the same. The Court shall appoint appraisers unless the additional property consists of money only; and if it shall appear that the amount of the bond previously given by the receiver is inadequate for the proper protection of the receivership estate, the Court shall require the receiver to give additional bond, with surety.

Rule 152. Depository for receivership money.

The receiver shall deposit in a banking institution in the State of Delaware in a special account in the receiver's name all moneys of the corporation that may come into the receiver's hands. Immediately upon making the first deposit therein, the receiver shall file in the office of the Register a written statement of the depository showing compliance with this provision.

Rule 153. Register to notify creditors.

Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, within 15 days after the filing of a list of the creditors of the company, the Register in Chancery shall give to every known creditor of the company notice by mail to file their claims against the company within a certain time to be fixed in said notice, which shall not be less than 60 days after the mailing of said notices; and cause a like notice to be published in such newspaper or newspapers and for such time as shall be designated by the Court; and forthwith file a report of the Register in Chancery's performance of the duty.

Rule 154. Contents of creditors' claims.

Within 60 days after notices are mailed to creditors, or such further time as the Court for good cause shown may allow, all claims of creditors shall be filed in the office of the Register in Chancery; and copies thereof shall be served on the receiver or on the attorney for the receiver. Claims shall consist of a statement in writing under oath, signed by the creditor, setting forth the amount claimed to be due at the time of the appointment of the receiver or thereafter, the consideration therefor and the payments received on account thereof, if any, and shall contain an averment as to what security if any is held therefor.

All book accounts shall be fully itemized.

When interest is claimed on instruments bearing interest according to the terms thereof, the time from which interest is claimed and the rate thereof shall be stated in the claim.

Claims based on obligations of record must be accompanied with a certified abstract of the record.

Claims based on written evidence of indebtedness must be accompanied by such instrument, unless the same be lost or destroyed, and in such case a statement under oath of the circumstances of such loss or destruction shall be filed with the claim.

Claims having priority and claims based upon liens on the property of the corporation shall contain a statement of the priority, if any, to which they are entitled.

Rule 155. When creditor may withdraw original instrument.

Original instruments filed by creditors may be withdrawn upon application to the Court, and a copy thereof substituted therefor, until the Court shall upon application of the receiver or any party interested require the production of the original instrument.

Rule 156. Exceptions to creditors' claims.

Exceptions to claims shall be filed in the office of the Register in Chancery and shall be served on the person to whose claim exception is taken, by the receiver, or by any party in interest, within 30 days from the expiration of the time for filing claims or of any extension of time allowed by the Court and will be heard by the Court upon such notice to the receiver, creditor and exceptant as may be ordered by the Court.

Rule 157. Testimony at hearing on exceptions.

At the hearing of exceptions to claims and to accounts, the testimony of witnesses shall be taken in the same manner as is provided for in other causes pending in this Court.

Rule 158. Sale of assets; notice to creditors and stockholders.

Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, notice of all sales to be made by the receiver shall be sent by the receiver by mail at least 15 days prior to the day of sale to all creditors who have filed claims, and to all stockholders.

Rule 159. Rights of lienholder upon purchase of asset.

Whenever the person holding a lien for money due from the corporation on property sold by a receiver, or on a particular part thereof, becomes the purchaser of the property covered by the lien, and the validity, priority and amount thereof have been duly determined by the Court, then the Court may by order permit the purchaser to credit the amount of the purchase price, or part thereof, on the debt due the purchaser under the lien, if the price be less than the whole debt, and if the price be more than the whole debt, the purchaser shall be required to pay only the excess of the purchase price over the debt.

Rule 160. Requiring corporate officer or agent to make disclosure.

Upon the application of the receiver or any creditor or stockholder of the corporation, the Court may require any officer, employee or agent of the corporation to appear before the receiver, or before a Master appointed by the Court, at a designated time and place, and answer such questions respecting the assets, liabilities, dealings and transactions of the company as are or seem likely to be important in the discovery, recovery and collection of the assets of the company and the administration of the receivership. Whenever necessary, a Master will be appointed to conduct the examination and make report of any matter deemed by the Master important in the administration of the receivership.

Rule 161. Duty to file reports.

Every receiver shall within 3 months of being appointed submit to the Court a full report of the receiver's proceedings and the state of the affairs of the company, and thereafter make like report at the expiration of each year during the pendency of the receivership.

Rule 162. Contents of accounts; duty of register.

Accounts rendered by receivers shall be for a period therein stated, and show in detail (1) all moneys received, when, from whom or from what source;

(2) gains or losses on sales made of the property included in the inventory;
(3) payments made, to whom and for what purpose. Every such account shall be accompanied by oath of the receiver that the account is just and true, and shall be filed in the office of the Register in Chancery, with the vouchers for all payments; whereupon it shall be the duty of the Register in Chancery to examine the account, compare it with the vouchers, prove the calculations and additions and certify therein whether the Register finds the same to be correct.

Rule 163. Register: Duty when receiver in default.

When the receiver shall fail to make or file reports, returns or accounts at the time when they shall be due, the Register shall report the same to the Court, and also notify the receiver of the delinquency.

Rule 164. Petition for allowances.

A receiver desiring compensation for services and allowances for expenses and services of the receiver's attorney shall file with the account a petition for such allowances, stating generally therein the services rendered by such receiver and the receiver's attorney and the compensation desired for the services of each. A separate petition for compensation may be filed by the attorney for the receiver.

Rule 165. Notice of filing of account or petition for allowances.

Upon the filing of an account by a receiver or a petition of a receiver or an attorney for a receiver for compensation and allowances, the Register in Chancery shall give notice by mail of the filing thereof and the hearing thereon to all classes or persons designated in the order of the Court setting such account or petition for hearing.

Rule 166. Exceptions to account or petition of allowances; Register's duty.

Exceptions to an account or to a petition for allowances filed by a receiver, or an attorney for a receiver, shall be made in writing by any party interested, and shall be filed in the office of the Register and served on the receiver or the attorney for the receiver, as the case may be, within the time fixed by the Court in its order setting such account or petition for hearing. The exceptions will be heard by the Court at the time fixed for the hearing on the account or petition unless otherwise ordered.

Rule 167. Final account; allowances; distribution.

Upon settling the final account with the receiver, the Court may make final allowances to the receiver for the receiver's services and expenses and for the services of the receiver's attorneys and order the distribution by the receiver among the creditors or stockholders of the company of the moneys remaining for distribution to which they are entitled; and thereupon the receiver shall make report to the Court of the receiver's proceedings under the order of distribution, submitting vouchers for all payments so made.

Rule 168. Discharge.

When a receiver shall have made a final distribution of the property and effects of the company and duly reported the same, and shall have complied with all orders and decrees of the Court touching the distribution, the receiver may be discharged by the Court upon petition of the receiver.

XVI. JUDICIAL ETHICS, ATTORNEYS, ETC.

Rule 169. Canons of judicial ethics.

(a) Judicial ethics. -- The Code of Judicial Conduct, approved and adopted by the American Bar Association on August 16, 1972, as modified and published by the Supreme Court in pamphlet form effective April 1, 1974, shall govern the conduct of all Judges of this Court.

Rule 170. Attorneys.

(a) Admission. -- Any person admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of this State shall be entitled to practice as an attorney in this Court so long as such person remains entitled to practice in the Supreme Court and maintains an office in this State for the practice of law.

(b) Attorneys who are not members of the Delaware Bar may be admitted pro hac vice in the discretion of the Court and such admission shall be made only upon written motion by a member of the Delaware Bar who maintains an office in this State for the practice of law ("Delaware Counsel"). The admission of an attorney pro hac vice shall not relieve the moving attorney from responsibility to comply with any Rule or order of the Court.

(c) Any attorney seeking admission pro hac vice shall certify the following in a statement attached to the motion:

(i) That the attorney is a member in good standing of the Bar of another state;

(ii) That the attorney shall be bound by the Delaware Lawyers' Rules of Professional Conduct and has reviewed the Statement of Principles of Lawyer Conduct;

(iii) That the attorney and all attorneys of the attorney's firm who directly or indirectly provide services to the party or cause at issue shall be bound by all Rules of the Court;

(iv) That the attorney has consented to the appointment of the Register in Chancery of the county in which the matter pends as agent upon whom service of process may be made for all actions, including disciplinary actions, that may arise out of the practice of law under this Rule and any activities related thereto;

(v) The number of actions in any court of record of Delaware in which the attorney has appeared in the preceding 12 months;

(vi) That a payment for the pro hac vice admission assessment in the amount of $100 is attached to be deposited in the Supreme Court registration fund for the purpose of the governance of the Bar of its Court and may be distributed pursuant to Supreme Court Rule 69;

(vii) Whether the applying attorney has been disbarred or suspended or is the object of pending disciplinary proceedings in any jurisdiction where the applying attorney has been admitted generally, pro hac vice, or in any other way; and

(viii) The identification of all states or other jurisdictions in which the applying attorney has at any time been admitted generally.

(d) Delaware counsel for any party shall appear in the action in which the motion for admission pro hac vice is filed and shall sign or receive service of all notices, orders, pleadings or other papers filed in the action, and shall attend all proceedings before the Court, Clerk of the Court, or other officers of the Court, unless excused by the Court. Attendance of Delaware Counsel at depositions shall not be required unless ordered by the Court.

(e) Withdrawal of attorneys admitted pro hac vice shall be governed by the provisions of Rule 5(aa). The Court may revoke a pro hac vice admission sua sponte, or upon the motion of a party, if it determines, after a hearing or other meaningful opportunity to respond, the continued admission pro hac vice to be inappropriate or inadvisable.

(f) The motion and certificate described in subsections (a) and (b) of this Rule shall be filed as soon as reasonably possible, and they shall be filed no later than the date of the 1st appearance of the attorney who seeks admission pro hac vice before the Court or the Clerk of the Court in the matter for which admission is sought.

(g) In exercising its discretion in ruling on a motion for admission pro hac vice, the Court shall also consider whether, in light of the nature and extent of the practice in the State of Delaware of the attorney seeking admission, that attorney is, in effect, practicing as a Delaware Counsel without complying with the Delaware requirements for admission to the Bar. In its consideration of this aspect of the motion, the Court may weigh the number of other admissions to practice sought and/or obtained by this attorney from Delaware courts, the question of whether or not the attorney in fact maintains an office in Delaware although the attorney is not admitted to practice in Delaware courts, and other relevant facts.

(h) The Delaware Counsel filing a motion pro hac vice for the admission of an attorney not a member of the Delaware Bar shall certify that the Delaware attorney finds the applicant to be a reputable and competent attorney, and is in a position to recommend the applicant's admission.

(a) Order of filing and number thereof. -- Unless otherwise directed by the Court, briefs shall be served and filed in the following order: First, the main brief of those who at the particular stage of the case are the moving parties; second, the answering briefs of those who oppose the position supported by the main brief; third, the reply brief of those who have previously filed a main brief. Where, as in interpleader, will construction, and other cases, the claims or positions asserted by the defendants are mutually antagonistic, those asserting each separate claim or position shall serve and file separate briefs as moving parties; and all parties who oppose such a position or claim shall serve and file answering briefs to which reply briefs may be filed. (3) Binding, margins and spacing. -- All briefs and memoranda shall be firmly bound either at the left margin or at the top. The style of citation of all Delaware opinions which are reported in any series of the Atlantic Reporter shall be as set forth in the following examples:

Melson v. Allman, Del. Supr., 244 A.2d 85 (1968)

Prince v. Bensinger, Del. Ch., 244 A.2d 89 (1968)

State v. Pennsylvania Railroad Co., Del. Super., 244 A.2d 80 (1968)

All further references to the previous State Reporter System shall be omitted. The citation of reported opinions of other jurisdictions shall similarly designate the court, the National Reporter System citation and the date, omitting reference to any state reporter system.

(h) Opinions cited in brief. -- If an unreported or memorandum opinion is cited, a copy thereof shall be attached to the brief, and the case number in which it was filed shall be stated. If the opinion does not contain a sufficient statement of the facts to demonstrate its pertinency to the pending argument, a statement of the facts shall also be attached to the brief. If the citation is first made in a reply brief, the opposing party may discuss the opinion at oral argument or, upon application made at oral argument, may be given the opportunity to do so in writing.

Rule 172. Sureties.

(a) Surety companies. -- Each surety company shall, in the month of January in each year, file with the Register in Chancery of the Court of Chancery, in each county in which such surety company is engaged in business, a power of attorney authorizing the execution of bonds by the attorney in fact designated in the power of attorney, before the Court shall accept or approve such company as surety. Nothing herein contained shall prohibit the execution by a surety company of any bond within the State by its proper officers as required by law.

Rule 173. Application for argument or trial; procedure.

(a) Notice procedure. -- Motions which can be disposed of promptly in chambers (e.g., motions for leave to amend, to take depositions, etc.) shall be brought on under the usual notice procedure subject to the requirements of Rule 6(d). Motions which cannot be disposed of in chambers (e.g., motions to dismiss, to strike, for more definite statement, etc.) shall be filed with the Register in Chancery. A motion may be made at any time under paragraph (b) hereof for the fixing of a time for argument of the original motion and the notice procedure should be on the motion to fix a time for the argument.

In the case of any motion, the moving attorney should arrange with the Judge to whom the case has been assigned for a time for presenting such motion before serving the notice of motion. A designated time for presenting any motion to the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor in New Castle County may be obtained by calling the chambers of the Court of Chancery. The members of the Bar in Kent and Sussex Counties may obtain a designated time and place for presenting any such motion by calling or writing the chambers of the judge to whom the case has been assigned. The time so obtained may then be inserted in the notice of motion to be served on opposing counsel. Judicial assignments may be obtained from the Register.

(b) Argument or trial date. -- Application may be made to the Court by any party upon reasonable notice to all other interested parties for the fixing of a time to hear any aspect of a pending matter.

(c) Emergency and miscellaneous applications. -- In emergency cases, applications may be made to such Judge as the situation dictates. Applications in matters other than in pending actions may be made either to the Chancellor or the Vice-Chancellor.

Rule 174. Voluntary mediation in the Court of Chancery.

The Chancellor or Vice Chancellor presiding in a case, with the consent of the parties, may refer any case or issue in a case to any other judge or master sitting permanently in the Court of Chancery, who has no involvement in the case, or to a designated mediator for voluntary mediation. Cases may be referred to voluntary mediation at any stage during the proceedings. Voluntary mediation is intended to provide the parties convenient access to dispute resolution proceedings that are fair, confidential, effective, inexpensive, and expeditious.

(a) Definitions. --

(1) "Mediation" means the process by which a mediator assists and facilitates two or more parties to a controversy in reaching a mutually acceptable resolution of the controversy and includes all contacts between the mediator and any party or parties, until such time as a resolution is agreed to by the parties or the parties discharge the mediator.

(2) "Mediator" means (i) a judge or master sitting permanently in the Court of Chancery, or (ii) an impartial person appointed by the Court or selected by agreement of the parties to a controversy to assist them in mediation ("a designated mediator"). A person is not eligible to serve as a designated mediator under this rule until the person has been a member of the Delaware Bar for 5 years, completed at least 25 hours of training in conflict resolution techniques, and has been certified pursuant to guidelines promulgated by the Chancellor. If authorized by the Chancellor, conflict resolution technique training for designated mediators may be provided in conjunction with training conducted pursuant to Superior Court Rule 16.2(g). A current listing of all persons eligible to serve as designated mediators pursuant to this Rule shall be maintained as a public record in the office of the Register in Chancery.

(3) "Mediation conference" means that process, which may consist of one or more meetings or conferences, pursuant to which the mediator assists the parties in seeking a mutually acceptable resolution of their dispute through discussion and negotiation.

(b) Participation. -- Once mediation has been elected, at least one representative of each party with an interest in the issue or issues to be mediated and with authority to resolve the matter must participate in the mediation conference.

(c) Written Consent to Mediation. -- Prior to the commencement of the mediation conference, the parties to a controversy shall enter into a written consent that identifies the issues to be mediated and specifies the methods by which the parties shall attempt to resolve the issues.

Confidentiality. -- Mediation conferences are private proceedings such that only parties and their representatives may attend, unless all parties agree otherwise. A mediator may not be compelled to testify in any judicial or administrative proceeding concerning any matter relating to service as a mediator. All memoranda, work product, and other materials contained in the case files of a mediator are confidential. Any communication made in or in connection with the mediation that relates to the controversy being mediated, whether made to the mediator or a party, or to any person if made at a mediation conference, is confidential. Such confidential materials and communications are not subject to disclosure in any judicial or administrative proceeding with the following exceptions:

(1) Where all parties to the mediation agree in writing to waive the confidentiality, or

(2) Statements, memoranda, materials, and other tangible evidence otherwise subject to discovery, which were not prepared specifically for use in the mediation conference.

A mediation agreement, however, shall not be confidential unless the parties otherwise agree in writing.

Civil Immunity. -- Designated mediators shall be immune from civil liability for or resulting from any act or omission done or made while engaged in efforts to assist or facilitate a mediation, unless the act or omission was made or done in bad faith, with malicious intent, or in a manner exhibiting a willful, wanton disregard of the rights, safety, or property of another.

Termination of Mediation Conference. -- The mediator shall officially terminate the mediation conference if the parties are unable to agree. The termination shall be without prejudice to either party in any other proceeding. The mediator shall have no authority to make or impose any adjudication, sanction, or penalty upon the parties. No party shall be bound by anything said or done at the conference unless an agreement is reached.

Mediation Agreement. -- If the parties involved in the mediation conference reach agreement with regard to the issues identified in the consent to mediation, their agreement shall be reduced to writing and signed by the parties and the mediator. The agreement shall set forth the terms of the resolution of the issues and the future responsibility of each party. The agreement will be binding on all parties to it and, upon filing by the mediator, will become part of the Court record. If the parties choose to keep the terms of the agreement confidential, a Stipulation of Dismissal may be filed in the alternative.

Designated Mediator's Compensation. -- If the mediator appointed is the Chancellor, one of the Vice Chancellors or the Master, the mediator shall not be compensated. Instead, a mediator's fee of $2500, checks payable to the Court of Chancery, shall be assessed against the parties as court costs, to be placed in a separate account maintained by the Court of Chancery, which shall be used from time to time in the discretion of the Court for mediation training and/or refunds or any other purposes as designated by the Chancellor. The mediator's fee of $2500 may be waived or modified in the discretion of the presiding Chancellor, Vice Chancellor or Master.

Stay of Pending Litigation. -- Cases referred to mediation pursuant to this Rule may be stayed in the discretion of the Court pending the conclusion of the mediation process.

Rule 174.1. Mandatory mediation for adult guardianship matters and probate disputes.

(a) Definitions. --

(1) "Mediation" means the process by which a mediator assists and facilitates two or more parties to a controversy in reaching a mutually acceptable resolution of the controversy and includes all contacts between the mediator and any party or parties, until such time as a resolution is agreed to by the parties or the parties discharge the mediator.

(2) "Mediator" means impartial person appointed by the Court or selected by agreement of the parties to a controversy to assist them in mediation. A person is eligible to serve as a designated mediator under this rule if he or she is eligible to serve as a mediator pursuant to the rules of Superior Court, or if he or she is eligible to serve as a mediator pursuant to the rules of this Court, or if the person has completed the Mediation Training Program established by the Delaware State Bar Association Committee on Law & Elderly. The Court shall retain a list of individuals who are eligible to serve as mediators pursuant to this rule and shall appoint a proposed mediator in all cases where the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor, or Master deems it appropriate for mandatory mediation.

(3) "Mediation conference" means that process, which may consist of one or more meetings or conferences, pursuant to which the mediator assists the parties in seeking a mutually acceptable resolution of their dispute through discussion and negotiation.

(b) Assignment to mediator. --

(1) Parties may jointly select any person to serve as mediator who has agreed to serve on a private basis, and meets the minimal requirements set out in these rules. Such stipulation must be made within twenty (20) days after the matter is referred to mediation and must include a statement signed by the mediator expressing his or her willingness to mediate under the Mediation Rules. Alternatively, the court will assign a mediator to the case.

(2) Mediators shall be compensated for their services at a reasonable hourly rate. Mediators shall submit an application to the Court after the conclusion of mediation for their compensation. All fees and expenses relating to the use of mediators in cases referred to mediation shall be borne equally by the parties unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(c) Authority of mediators. --

(1) Mediators shall work with parties to facilitate agreements on substantive and procedural matters and attempt to aid in the voluntary resolution of cases. Mediators shall terminate the mediation if the mediator believes the process is unproductive or that any party or attorney is not mediating in good faith. Mediators may recommend to the court that sanctions be imposed against a party or attorney who has failed to comply with these Mediation Rules. Mediators shall not issue decisions or make procedural or substantive recommendations about the case to the court.

(d) Participation. --

(1) All parties with an interest in the issue or issues to be mediated and with authority to resolve the matter must participate in the mediation conference(s). Any party may have legal counsel present to assist in the mediation.

(e) Confidentiality. --

(1) Mediation conferences are private proceedings such that only parties and their representatives may attend, unless all parties agree otherwise. A mediator may not be compelled to testify in any judicial or administrative proceeding concerning any matter relating to service as a mediator. All memoranda, work product, and other materials contained in the case files of a mediator are confidential. Any communication made in or in connection with the mediation that relates to the controversy being mediated, whether made to the mediator or a party, or to any person if made at a mediation conference, is confidential. Such confidential materials and communications are not subject to disclosure in any judicial or administrative proceeding with the following exceptions:

(a) Where all parties to the mediation agree in writing to waive the confidentiality, or

(b) Statements, memoranda, materials, and other tangible evidence otherwise subject to discovery, that were not prepared specifically for use in the mediation conference. A mediation agreement, however, shall not be confidential unless the parties otherwise agree in writing.

(f) Reporting outcome of mediation services. --

(1) If the mediation is successful in resolving any of the dispute, a written agreement shall be submitted to the Court.

(2) In the event that the agreement is not reached, the mediator shall notify the Court in writing that mediation has been concluded and an agreement was not reached.

(3) If one or both parties fail to appear at any mediation conference, the mediator shall report the identity of each person who failed to appear to the Court. The Court may, thereafter, take whatever action it deems necessary or appropriate, including imposing sanctions.

(g) Mediation agreement. --

(1) If the parties involved in the mediation conference reach agreement with regard to the disputed issues, their agreement shall be reduced to writing and signed by the parties and the mediator. The agreement shall set for the terms of the resolution of the issues and the future responsibility of each party. The agreement will be binding on all parties to it and, upon filing by the mediator, will become part of the Court's record. If the parties choose to keep the terms of the agreement confidential, a Stipulation of Dismissal may be filed in the alternative.

If a hearing is to be held, notice thereof, in such form and manner as the Court shall direct, shall be given to such of the guardian, spouse, and next of kin of the petitioner as the Court shall direct. Such a petition may also be filed by other parties in interest.
